WE NOMINATE

Gordon Gowans Sikes, who over the decades, with rare courage and contagious enthusiasm, has disregarded physical infirmities and has succeeded in forging a record of service once described as a "Princeton tradition." This coming June, opting to retire two years ahead of normal schedule, the 66-year old Sikes will ring down the curtain on almost a half-century of continuous association with Princeton University and community service organizations. And during this period, even when he was away from the swirl of Nassau Street, he was concerned with the well-being of Princetonians overseas.

It was in the late summer of 1912 that Sikes, a native of Buffalo, N. Y., and in adolescence a victim of infantile paralysis, first appeared on the Princeton scene as a dink-wearing member of the University's Class of 1916. From that point forward, starting with his debut as a freshman crew coxswain on Carnegie Lake, he has been an integral part of Princeton—holding a wide variety of administrative portfolios, combining his primary responsibilities with volunteer coaching duties for some 30 years, and since the mid-1930's as Director of Placement maintaining liaison between the University and the companies interested in employing Princetonians on graduation.

A link between the club-conscious, free-wheeling Princeton "immortalized" by F. Scott Fitzgerald and the prestigious modern-day university that annually sends 60% of its seniors on to graduate study, Sikes received his master's degree here in 1917 and joyfully served an apprenticeship as an assistant rowing coach. In 1919, following two years in the World War I Princeton Bureau of the American University Union in Paris, he became Assistant Secretary of the University. In subsequent years, when his contributions to college rowing often overshadowed his other achievements, he was to hold forth as Undergraduate Counselor, Assistant to the Dean of the College, Secretary of the Alumni Council and Adviser to the $3,000,000 Class Memorial Insurance Program.

One measure of Sikes' lifelong dedication to college rowing and to the ideals of amateur sport was provided four years ago with the surprise establishment by a group of alumni of the Gordon G. Sikes Medal, the highest honor that can be conferred upon a lightweight oarsman at Princeton. "It is a tremendous pleasure," said the chairman of the sponsoring committee in May, 1958, "to honor a man who has not only been a vital factor in rowing over many years, but to us has been a friend whose courage, character, enthusiasm and devotion to Princeton was a daily inspiration to all who rowed under him on the lightweight crews of the 1920's."

Never receiving a penny in remuneration for his efforts as a coach, Sikes from 1919 until 1931 was a driving force in the development of lightweight rowing in America. Director of all Princeton rowing activities for five years (1932-1937), well-known in European rowing circles, and an officer of the U. S. Olympic Committee, he was to "retire" three times within the space of a single decade. He formally relinquished his coaching megaphone in 1937 but returned to Carnegie during World War II to drill informal crews manned by Marine and naval trainees and again, following V-J Day, directed varsity and freshman lightweight boats until the University could re-assemble a full coaching staff.

For his abiding interest in helping young men face up to the challenges of their time; for his unstinted efforts on behalf of the Princeton Y.M.C.A. and other service groups; for his capacities for making and holding friends; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

THAT TAX DOLLAR
More This Year. With Mercer County playing the unexpected role of bogeyman, Borough and Township taxpayers learned this week that taxes will go up: 62 cents more per $100 of assessed valuation in the Borough and 30 cents per $100 in the Township. (The Township assesses at 100% of true value, the Borough at 33 1/3%.)

In actual figures, the Borough's budget is $1,111,326 and the Township budget—topping the million mark for the first time in the history of the municipality—is $1,085,524.

The County enters the picture by tapping the Township for $109,582 more than last year. The Borough for $39-120 more, to the consternation of both municipalities.

It came about in this way:
the city of Trenton has been complaining that it bears too much of the cost of County government, and so county officials decided to adopt for 1962 tax purposes a new equalization table.

How Much For Me? This is the table that determines how much each municipality should pay of the total county budget. For its new table, the County simply took the figures compiled by the state to determine the amount of state aid for schools.

These figures, collected during the 12 months between July 1, 1960, and June 30, 1961, are a sample of property sales during the period, and by using them, the County came up with a figure of $110-000,000 for Township ratesables. The Township's own figures show only $97,945,418.
The County says its figures show that the Township assesses, not at 100% of true value, but only at 88%, and on this basis, it has assessed the Township $636,398.

In the Borough, the picture is much the same. The County has determined, by using the new equalization table, that the Borough has actually been assessing at 28% instead of 33 1/3%. So the Borough will now pay the County $488,270, or $89,126 more than last year.

Gordon Griffin, Township
attorney, and Stuart Robson, Township assessor, appeared before County officials to contest the new equalization table, but received no satisfaction from Vincent Panaro, head of the County Tax Board.

No Action Planned. Township officials indicated that there would probably be no formal, legal appeal from the assessment because previous court cases have indicated that such an appeal would be fruitless.

Joseph Nini, Township administrator, said he believed that by banding together, several County municipalities might be strong enough to obtain redress.

It is the contention of the Township that, if the sampling of sales had been made in the calendar year of 1961 instead of during the period straddling 1960 and 1961, it would be a fair indication of the sales-assessment ratio. The Township admits that it does not assess at a complete 100%, but believes that 92% is closer to the truth than 88%.

The size of the County increase is shown by these tables:

	Borough
	'60	'61	'62

on his 15th annual Borough budget, Borough Clerk Robert

Borough. The Borough's new tax rate is $6.99, up 10% over last year's $6.37, however,
Robert Money, Borough clerk, points out that because there is no longer a personal property tax, most taxpayers will pay only 5% more than last year.

able properties make it the 3.25% average salary raise for all Borough employees . .

$13,000 for a new street sweep-ldozer for the dump.

Township. In the Township, the 1962 total tax rate will be $2.77 per $100, against $2.47 in 1961. Officials estimate that, if personal property and "senior citizen" taxes had not caused the attrition of tax rolls, there would have been no increase at all in local purposes rate. As it is, this increase is two cents.

The largest item of increase in the operating budget is caused by additional personnel: five more employees and extra seasonal help for the engineering department, particularly. The second largest increase goes to the Borough $13,000 more for use of the incinerator and $4,300 more for the sewer share.

• Anticipated revenues: an increase of $32,000 in the mis-

The Stuff of History Then and NOW

by A. N. SPANEL, Chairman
International Latex Corporation

An all but forgotten episode in American history — what came to be known as the "Olive Branch" Petition to King George III — has acquired new significance today, in a time when terror, cruelty and know-nothing hatreds wear the masks of "anti-colonialism."

It occurred long before the rise of modern totalitarian subversion and perversion, in an epoch when true patriots dealt with colonial grievances honestly and honorably, in a spirit of constructive conciliation. Their large concern was the general welfare of the people and the tyrannies to which they had been subjected.

Turning back the clock of history can be a futile exercise. Yet free men should ponder the differences between the rebellion of the American colonists and the rash of rebellions since World War II—especially because the American Revolution is so often cited, loosely and ignorantly, to justify communist-inspired "anti-imperialist" horrors. They should not blind themselves to the dramatic contrast between a genuine urge to freedom and reckless hate campaigns by power-hungry demagogues.

The "Olive Branch" Petition was a last-ditch attempt by our Founding Fathers to mediate the conflict with the Mother Country. It stands as eloquent proof of their zeal to head off a decision by blood-letting. Had they been infected with the kind of lusts for personal power so rampant today, they could not conceivably have extended the "Olive Branch."

It happened only a year before the Declaration of Independence. The date of the Petition—July 8, 1775—is meaningful. For at Lexington, Concord and Bunker Hill the shots heard around the world had already been fired! General George Washington, having been named Commander-in-Chief of the Continental forces, was on his way to Cambridge to assume his command. Yet the Second Continental Congress chose to make a final appeal for an honorable settlement that would assure the Americans freedom and justice within the British empire.

The same bold signatures so familiar to us on the Declaration, head those of 46 signers of the "humble petition" addressed to the "most gracious sovereign" by his "still faithful colonists." Twenty-five of these, indeed, would also appear on the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, among them Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Samuel Adams. The remaining 21 included Patrick Henry, John Jay and others whose dedication to freedom is beyond question.

Writing as "dutiful subjects," they blamed the looming civil war upon "the delusive pretences, fruitless terror, and unavailing severities" of his Majesty's ministers in enforcing a "System of statutes and regulations" inimical to the real interests of the colonies and the empire alike. They asked for his intervention to remove the grievances.

"Your Majesty's ministers persevering in their measures and proceeding to open hostilities to enforce them," they wrote, "have compelled us to arm in our own defence....Knowing to what violent resentments and incurable animosities civil discords are apt to exasperate and inflame the contending parties, we think ourselves required by indispensable obligations to Almighty God, to your Majesty, to our fellow subjects, and to ourselves, immediately to use all the means in our power not incompatible with our safety, for stopping further effusion of blood, and for averting the further calamities that threaten the British empire."

The Petition then went on to plead that the King act "against those artful and cruel enemies who abuse your royal confidence for the purpose of effecting our destruction." And it concluded:

"We therefore beseech your Majesty, that your royal authority and influence may be graciously interposed to procure us relief from our afflicting fears and jealousies occasioned by the System before mentioned, and to settle peace thro' every part of your dominions, with all humility submitting to your Majesty's wise consideration, whether it may not be expedient for facilitating those important purposes, that your Majesty be pleased to direct some mode by which the united applications of your faithful colonists to the throne, in pursuance of their common councils, may be improved into a happy and permanent reconciliation; and that in the mean time, measures be taken for preventing the further destruction of the lives of your Majesty's subjects; and that such statutes as more immediately distress any of your Majesty's colonies be repealed: For by such arrangements as your Majesty's wisdom can form, for collecting the united sense of your American people, we are convinced, your Majesty would receive such satisfactory proofs of the disposition of the colonists towards their sovereign and the parent state, that the wished for opportunity would soon be restored to them, of evincing the sincerity of their professions by every testimony of devotion becoming the most dutiful subjects and the most affectionate colonists."

The "Olive Branch" was blindly spurned by King George III. The unwanted war was fought and won.

But if the moral of this historical episode were better known and understood, much of the flagrant nonsense that today passes for political opinion on the colonial question would be cancelled out. It is a moral that cannot be lost when radiant and imperishable names like Washington, Jefferson, Franklin and Patrick Henry are placed beside the demagogues in our time who, in the sacred name of freedom, and behind the mask of "anti-imperialism," are setting up totalitarian tyrannies over the helpless, the fear-ridden, and unwary peoples of this earth.

ELECTION TUESDAY

For School Boards. When the polls open at 5 p.m. next Tuesday, the customary few will come to cast the ballots that determine the fate of million-dollar budgets, and the composition of school boards that form educational policies.

Contests for positions on the school board exist in the Borough of Princeton, Montgomery Township, West Windsor Township, Pennington, Lawrence and Hopewell Townships.

There is no contest for the three Princeton Township seats. Two incumbents, Richard Pearson of 39 Tyson Lane, and Leonard M. Hymerling, 297 Jefferson Road, have been joined by Willis Bussard, 151 Hickory Court. John Donal, whose term expires, has not sought re-election.

In the Township, voters will pass on a budget of $1,506,915.88. In the Borough, the budget to be voted upon is $1,635,926.57.

Borough. Six candidates are seeking the three available Borough Board of Education positions, and of these six, three are incumbents. They are Dr. Henry Abrams, 44 Armour Road; Mrs. Grace Loetscher, 74 Mercer, and Bryan V. Moore, 30 Quarry Street.

The other three candidates issued a statement this week to make it clear to Princeton voters that they are not running as a slate, but only as new candidates to the Board.

These three — Robert R. Palmer, 200 Prospect; Walter D. Wagoner, 4 Hunter Road and Mrs. Sarah K. Strayer, 114 Prospect — say in their statement that although they do not have precisely the same ideas, they do agree on several points, chiefly on the matter of re-election.

"No member of the Board seeking re-election has been defeated since 1931. For 30 years, members of the Board have been recruited by invitation of the Board itself, in some cases by appointment to unexpired terms before their actual elections."

The statement also points out that more people voted in school elections in the '30's than in the past 19 years, and suggests a revival of interest on the part of the public in public schools.

All three new candidates endorse the Board's proposal to buy land from Westminster Choir College for a Borough Educational Center.

Dr. Abrams urges expansion of guidance programs, improvement of the level of English teaching and the investigation of teaching machines. Mrs. Loetscher advises postponement of Borough-Township school consolidation and suggests adopting improved curricula and educational methods. West Windsor. Four candidates have filed for the three positions open on the Board. Mrs. Hannah Tindall and Bernard Mount are seeking re-election and George Leck, appointed to the Board to fill out an unexpired term, is hoping for election to a regular first term.

BOUND-UP

Edgemoor-Library Place residents met Monday to discuss further the Seminary's plans for building a 28-unit faculty apartment on the site of the former Erdman residence, but have not yet announced a formal stand on the proposal. Some of them are disturbed by removal of a number of trees from the property. For a letter on the projected apartments (and others on various community topics), see "Mailbox," page 13.

How good is your memory? A window that had been walled over years ago at 203 Nassau (corner of Charlton) has been uncovered for display purposes by Male's Book Shop. It had in gold lettering, "Quaker Oats," recalling to mind that it was once a grocery store. The estimate here is the mid '20's.

A teen-ager writes home from school in Connecticut that two of her friends are on crutches because they had been doing the twist. For opinions of young and old on this latest dance craze, see "Question of the Week," page 13.

The thermometer has fluctuated 52 degrees in the past week, from a low of 8 last Wednesday to Monday afternoon's spring-like 60. The downward trail was taken shortly thereafter, with readings well below freezing recorded early Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

Compulsory installation of safety belts in automobiles? The New Jersey Legislature is considering a bill requiring such action—probably on models to be built in the future, not those already in use.

ers on State Road 206. Shortly after 8 a.m., Mrs. Robert I. Hill, Belle Mead, skidded across the highway near Cherry Valley Road and struck a car operated by Melvin Peterson of Trenton.

After dark that day, Miss Edith B. Wilkinson, Belle Mead, slid into a guard rail just north of Arretton Road. Later on, Albert D. DeLoranzo of Raritan skidded from one side to the other and struck a tree on both sides before coming to a stop, and James M. White of Atlantic City lost a wheel, struck a tree and a large rock, damaging his car beyond repair.

Monday morning's fog caused a collision shortly after 9 o'clock at the corner of Mercer and Library, involving cars driven by Mrs. Dorothy S. Greenbaum, 104 Mercer, and Mrs. Carol A. Baugh, Lakeside Faculty Apartments. Mrs. Greenbaum lost a tooth, received a summons for failure to yield the right of way when police said she cut across Mrs.

Baugh's path while turning from Mercer into Library.

Slippery conditions on Quaker Road caused Mikio Sato, 33, 35 Einstein Drive, to skid into a guard rail Friday morning. Steadily rising weekend temperatures obliterated the snow, which amounted to about two inches.

Merwick residents were aroused this week by reports of a prowler inside the building. A wrist watch, handbag and portable radio were reported missing.

Farther down the block on Bayard Lane, a number of Stanworth residents were awestruck about something else—a Bohemian waxwing, a real bird rarity in these parts, had been spotted trying to masquerade among a covey of cedar waxwings.

Copenhagen's night clubs are the cheapest in the world. You can order a sandwich and a glass of beer in the best of them—and let it end at that, if you like.

When drinking beer, wine, or spirits one says "Skaal" to one's companion. Nobody seems to know precisely why it should be "Skaal," but it is friendly and, therefore, necessary.

For reasons unknown, an announcer is called a "Speaker" in Danish, a dinner jacket a "Smoking" and a cap a "Sixpence."

Fresh air is regarded with enthusiasm as very, very healthy in railway carriages, it is not fresh air because it instantly becomes a draft.

Some people believe the streets are clean because the wind immediately blows away the dirt. They are mistaken. The streets are swept and washed every morning like all nice children. Some even say that the trees are combed! At any rate, they are trimmed!

The Danes have a pronounced sense of humor. It is so strong that it makes them laugh at things which are definitely not funny.

There are many dogs in Denmark—but very few Great Danes. To make the confusion complete we call them Grand Danois.

Denmark was never intended to be inhabited in winter, but it is lovely in spring, summer and autumn.

A visitor from Florida once said that Copenhagen had two winters, a white one and a green one. The statement is a bit unjust.

The Danish national drink is beer. The Danish national weakness is another beer.

The Danes worship anything foreign and everything Danish.

DEVIL—OR COMIC? Medical men of Ceylon often wear a Raksha, or devil mask, to scare the demon away from a sick man, or to cure the patient with laughter. The drummer helps. These members of the Ceylon National Dancers will appear this Friday at 8:30 in McCarter.

News Of The THEATRES

"DARK OF THE MOON"

At McCarter. A blood-stained moon shone on the Smoky Mountain last weekend, and the legend of Barbara Allen came to dramatic life on the McCarter stage. A cast of professional and community actors turned in a good performance of a chilling tale—good enough to warrant a third performance this Saturday at 8:30.

The synthesis of acting, dancing and singing showed weakness as well as strength; the choreography and dancing fell into the former category, while the music and singing were often the driving forces behind the action, and were an integral part of the play.

The dancing and choreographic burdens fell on Norman Walker, who seemed somewhat rigid in both departments. His mannered movements, particularly with his hands during the first scene, and the dance with Miss Harvey in the second were flat. His second act number with the two witches (Cora Cahan and Carol Estey) had considerable impact, and was well executed, but the effect was marred by the overall characterization of the two witch-girls. It is more than difficult to be folksy-funny and sinister at the same time, while wriggling on the floor and speaking in unison with a mountain twang. The two of them did admirably under the circumstances.

Leads Typed. The two principal roles, taken by Mr. Walker and Suzanne Harvey, were too much the stereotyped "hero and heroine" to arouse complete sympathy, and Mr. Walker operated under the additional handicap of an inconsistent part.

While he played "John Human," on a year's leave from witchcraft, he was most convincing, but the difficulties of carrying conflicting parts in later scenes were too great.

As the good girl betrayed, Miss Harvey did nobly. The weakest point of her role was the repentance scene, but that should be attributed in part at least to the authors, Howard Richardson and William Berney.

Music Delightful. In the music department, the atmosphere and performances were excellent. Brooks Jones and Bob Yellin, provided the arrangements and the guitar and banjo accompaniment. Setting the mood of the play, Mr. Jones sang excerpts from various folk songs by way of introducing the scenes.

The songs and background music were well chosen in every instance. The best example was the revival meeting where a variety of voices (Elizabeth Pergerson was superb) was used with excellent results.

The duet sung by Elaine Battis and Gregory Prestopino was another high spot. The musical setting for each song was so arranged to blend with the action that the quality and training of the particular voice was unimportant.

By far the best acting was done by Arthur Lithgow, whose Preacher Haggler was consistently developed. He avoided the pitfall of the "twang," imperfectly rendered by others in the cast born many miles from the Smokies, and created his own accent and characterization.

The other country folks were admirably portrayed by Leo Cohen, Greg Farrell, Mary Woldin, Gary Ellis, Eve Johnson, Ed Callanan, Evelyn Smith, Braxton Ellerbe, John Agar, Peter Boardman and Dorothy Alexander.

The nine scenes, divided into two acts, went very smoothly under Mr. Jones' able direction. The mountain backdrop and blood-stained moon, designed by Jacob Landau, executed by Gill McManigal and lighted by Gilbert Hemsley Jr., were extremely effective.

The McCarter Guild and Associated Community Players of New Jersey sponsored the production, a benefit for the Guild. All concerned should be congratulated on the staging of an unusual theatre piece.

WOMEN ADDED

To Ceylon Dancers. Three of Ceylon's leading feminine dancers will be seen on McCarter's stage when that country's National Dancers appear this Friday in Princeton.

In the early years of the century, the dance of Kandy was regarded as the special province of male dancers, but an ancient custom of earlier Kandyan courts, which allowed women to perform certain court dances, has been revived by the director of the National Company, T. P. Amerasinghe.

The male dancers in the company are direct descendants of the royally proclaimed "dancing families." All these dancers have been trained by the great dancer Guneyya, and all are recognized teachers as well as dancing stars in the Singhalese tradition.

One of the South Ceylon dancers, descended from a family of practicing medicine men, does flaming turns-in-air.

guaranteed to frighten away the 37 demons that trouble mankind. (At home in Ceylon, he is a practicing psychiatrist.)

Drummers are important in Ceylon dancing, and one of the features of the present program is a drum conversation, or duel, between the highlands and the low country.

'MURDER' COMING HERE

Eliot Work on Tour. T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral," as produced by the Adams House Drama Society of Harvard, will be given Saturday, Sunday and Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Trinity Church.

The production will come to Princeton following an eight-day run in Cambridge and a three-day stand at Yale. All members of the cast and the production staff are Harvard or Radcliffe students.

"Murder in the Cathedral" dramatizes the martyrdom of Thomas a Becket, Archbishop of Canterbury, in 1176. Eliot's main concern is to show the forces that led to the martyrdom and the various ways in which it might have been in—

AN OPEN LETTER TO PRESIDENT KENNEDY

We believe that the President and Congress of the United States are acting in the best interests of the American people, and of all the free people of the world, in supporting a national shelter program. Such a program is part, though it can be only one part, of a comprehensive American strategy. In a world in which the magnitude of possible conflict is unforeseeable, it is not advisable to rely solely on the ultimate weapons, that is on the thermonuclear deterrent. We also need a shield which would render possible threats to our nation less formidable and which would reduce the temptation to blackmail our government into surrender in small steps.

President Kennedy's powerful speech before the United Nations last September on disarmament, so ardently endorsed by the critics of his civil defense program, is clear evidence of American desire for world peace. The immediate rejection of this program by the U.S.S.R. shows that there is a long road ahead of us before we reach this goal. Under these conditions the criticism of the civil defense program is hard to understand, directed as it is against the creation of a shield for the American people.

Shelters are one important means of protecting and preserving the lives of many millions of American men, women, and children. In the event of a thermonuclear attack, many would perish because of needless absence of a protective shelter. Nobody knows how many lives would be lost in a nuclear war. But we do know that more lives would be saved, if a nation-wide shelter program, guided by the national government and focused on community survival, is carried out, than if we fail to build shelters. The existence of such shield may mean the difference between an America that has been terribly damaged, but has enough skilled, courageous people to keep it going as a great power and civilization, and an America that has lost so large a portion of its people that the survivors are forced to surrender. The knowledge that an attack will not destroy the free world will also help to dissuade any power from undertaking such an attack.

One frequently repeated argument against shelters is that an effective shelter program may either provoke the Soviets or make our own leaders more reckless. As to the first argument, it is not lack of provocation that has kept our civilization intact; it has been the American policy of refraining from actively using our atomic bomb monopoly against Soviet Russia so long as we had it, and from adhering to a tacit balance of power system, once the Soviets became a nuclear power.

For the argument that a successful shelter program may make our leaders more reckless, as perhaps seat belts in airplanes make pilots more reckless, we know no such leaders, as we know no such pilots. There are certainly reckless Americans, as there must be reckless Russians; it is the function of a civilized community to withhold from them the reins of power. Indeed, we are offended by the idea of using the American people as hostages against possible recklessness in our leaders, and for encouraging aggressiveness on the other side. In addition we have the perhaps forgivable desire to protect our children's lives in case our efforts toward peace fail.

We would like to live in a world without fear of war, and will join with our friends in any efforts to move toward such a world. Meanwhile, we would like to see the American people provided with the protection which a shelter system can provide.

ANTIQUES FROM ENGLAND

At M. & O. Grouped together in the fascinating collection of antiques recently delivered to Milholland and Olson, are pieces that once belonged to architects, gamblers, wine-bibbers, tea-drinkers and grandfathers who liked to know the time of day.

Before we proceed, we should tell you that the collection is something of a departure for this long-established decorating firm at 8 Stockton. Usually, Milholland and Olson confines itself to decorating only, acquiring for its clients such pieces as are required, but never before amassing a large group for retail sale in the show-room.

One of the handsomest pieces in the collection is a mahogany grandfather's clock (medium size) with a silver dial from the hands of Robert Welsh of Dalkeith, Scotland. It was made about 1780.

The same period produces a splendid secretaire-bookcase in mahogany, over seven feet tall and obviously designed for a spacious room and a spacious gentleman with a good bit of correspondence. It has austere lines, deep drawers and pigeon-hole space that folds out of sight in the usual manner where the top "drawer" is closed. A towering glass-encased bookcase rises from the desk.

Another piece of considerable size is the how-front chest in a tawny mahogany the shade of fine sherry, with a strong but gentle bow across the 42-inch width of its front. It has three deep drawers below the pair of small ones at the top, and a fine inlay strip paralleling the edges of the top.

Two charming companion chests, from about 1790, also have bow fronts, but more modest dimensions. They are about 30 inches wide and would be graceful in a foyer or against a small wall. One has flat brass rings as drawer pulls, and slender, flaring legs.

About those gamblers we mentioned above. They plied their trade at a "gambling table" (not a "card table" if you please) made about 1810 of mahogany which has acquired a warm, faded tone with the years.

The table, square with curving sides, has a framed square at each corner to hold a candlestick, and a shallow mahogany well before each player to hold those clinking coins. Milholland and Olson has reason to believe it was Irish, and you can almost hear the echoes of those early games. (New kelly-green felt covers the surface.)

The architect we mentioned worked during the 1790's at a 23 x 29 inch table covered Trunk Show!

Neat Friday, February 16, you can stop in at the English Shop any time during the day and examine the contents of the Lynbrook trunk in a new fashion enticement called a "Trunk Show."

A representative (retailer for a salesman) from the Lynbrook dress company will be at the shop to show you spring and summer fancies, which are bound to look especially delectable on a bleak February morning.

You examine the contents of the trunk and choose the dresses you would like to have for summer. Try them on. Picture yourself under a June breeze instead of a February gale, and then place your order. The dresses will be delivered to you after Easter, just when you need them most.

The English Shop will offer door prizes and favors—as if you needed to be coaxed inside!

with gold-tooled wine leather. The top tilts up to make a drawing board, and there is a small side drawer.

Wine drinkers during this period kept their stock in a hexagonal wine cooler, brass-bound, with two brass key handles and three sturdy legs—sturdier, perhaps, than the owner's after a time. Someone in Princeton will undoubtedly use it for a planter.

Perhaps the most beguiling antiques are the inlaid tea-caddies, beguiling because one can so easily picture them in actual every-day use. They are wooden boxes (fine examples of a woodworker's skill) each containing a glass mixing bowl and two tin-lined cannisters. One has a cut crystal bowl that rings splendidly. One has a gold mixing spoon, another a silver handle with hallmark, a third has an unusual trapezoidal shape and metal claw feet, and a fourth has minute dimensions (seven inches), against the 14 of the others) and a pattern of inlay work and burl across its domed top.

SPRING? SURE!

English Shop Says So. When the Madras migrates up from the south you know that spring has come.

We saw our first Madras of the season this week at The English Shop where it appears in Bermudas. It is accompanied this year, as last, by a newer specimen, the Batik print. English Shop has this in a very dark classic dress with gathered waist, straight skirt and pan collar. Spring right through fall, that one.

Galey and Lord's Pinfeather is the most minute pinstripe you ever saw. It wraps around a dacron and cotton designed in two pieces: sleeveless, collarless, tucked-in blouse and flared skirt, both buttoned down the front.

(Incidentally, collars are in short supply at The English Shop this spring: the collarless neckline is in, girls, in.)

One example is the frisky horse print in olive and green on white with gathered waist, cap sleeves and greer belt. Another is the Moygashel in—Continued on Page 17

To underscore his theme, Eliot brings on stage four tempters, representing different aspects of Thomas' character, and in this Harvard production, the director has chosen to use the same actors for the tempters and the knights that finally commit the murder.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Tender Is the Night (February 7-13) is another film that has difficulty in overcoming Hollywood techniques. Ivan Moffat (who added the two most powerful scenes in "Giant" to the movie version of Edna Ferber's novel) has done a magnificent job of giving fully-developed characters to F. Scott Fitzgerald's nebulous nonentities.

Then, however, director Henry King comes in with his cinemascope and color camera to take beautiful shots of the French Riviera and the Swiss countryside and the story occasionally gets lost amid the scenery. When the story is found, though, it is due to the acting genius of Jason Robards, Jr., as a man who fatally gives all his love to a dominant woman.

The story concerns Robards as a psychiatrist who is taking care of Jennifer Jones, a young American neurotic. He falls in love with her, but as she becomes stronger, he becomes weaker and more dissipated. Finally, he comes brilliantly to realize the futility of his life. Paul Lucas is excellent as the "wise old doctor," modeled after the late Carl Jung. Comment: spotty F. Scott, saved by acting and writing.

Breakfast at Tiffany's (February 14-20) is a strange motion picture, to say the least. Audrey Hepburn plays the heroine, Holly Golightly, who is searching for some kind of stability in this crazy world. A simple, madcap, beatnik-type erratic girl, Holly is made for Miss Hepburn, who is very appealing.

Producers Martin Jurov and Richard Shepherd, however, had a problem: how to keep the hero and heroine from finding out that true love is the solution to their situation for the better part of two hours. The manufactured situations and oddball characters fail to hold interest, and one prays for the inevitable rain to bring the storm-crossed lovers together.

George Peppard acts the shady hero unconvincingly. Mickey Rooney is excellent the first time in a bit part. The top scene is a crazy, wonderful walk through the city, including a magnificent shopping escapade in a dime store. Filmed beautifully in color in New York. Comment: it doesn't beat toast and coffee.

THE GARDEN

La Dolce Vita (February 8-20, except Feb. 14). Federico Fellini's study of sin and corruption among the middle and upper classes in Rome has already become a classic film, infiltrating and initiating discussions in many fields. It is a picture with no middle ground: one either bakes the penetrating relation of the soul-sickness of modern life or one deplores the immoral sensationalism.

The over-long film runs nearly three hours and is constructed as a series of episodes. —Continued on Page 9

MUSIC In Princeton

CLEVELANDERS TO PLAY
In 24th Appearance. The Cleveland Orchestra, which made its Princeton debut in the season of 1935-36, will return for its 24th appearance here Tuesday at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre.

George Szell will conduct the group in Haydn's Symphony No. 92 in G Major, the "Oxford;" Schumann's Symphony No. 4 in D Minor, Opus 120 and Bartok's Concerto for Orchestra.

The concert will be the third in Series I of the Princeton University Concerts and all seats have been sold out by subscription. Fifty standing-room tickets at $1.50 will go on sale at McCarter at 7:30 p.m. the evening of the concert. They may not be reserved ahead of time.

ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY

Friday in Alexander Hall. For its second concert of the current season, the Princeton University Orchestra under Nicholas Harsanyi will play works by Mendelssohn, Debussy and a graduate student at the University.

The concert will be given Friday at 8:30 in Alexander Hall under the sponsorship of the Friends of Music. It is open to the public without charge.

Vincent Reale, a member of the class of '63, will appear as soloist in the Mendelssohn Concerto in E Minor, Opus 64 for violin and orchestra. Susanne Rowles, Princeton resident who is now a student at the Curtis Institute of Music will be the soloist in Debussy's "Danse Sacree et Dance Profane" for harp and strings. Miss Rowles has been performing as a harpist for many years, although she is only 19.

The final work on the program will be a "Canzona" by Philip Batstone, second-year graduate student in the department of music at Princeton. John Harbison will conduct this first performance of Mr. Batstone's work.

"MAGNIFICAT" FEATURE

Of College Concert. The University Glee Club and the Choir and Chorus of Mary Baldwin College will join forces this Sunday at McCarter for performances of Bach's "Magnificat" and Purcell's "Come Ye Sons of Art." The Mary Baldwin group will sing works by Handel, Monteverdi sodes. Often, too often, actually, the episodes have been cut out abruptly and thus give a choppy motion to the picture. The final, decadent orgy is brilliantly handled, but after three hours, it lacks some of the punch.

Then there is symbolism. A symbol-minded theatre-goer's dream, "La Dolce Vita" ("The Sweet Life") begins with a statue of Christ being flown across the rooftops of Rome by helicopter, while bikini-clad beauties make eyes at the pilots. It ends with the protagonist waving good-bye to the pure, sweet girl and abandoning himself to "la dolce vita."

Anita Ekberg and Lex Barker are the only American actors in the film, playing American film personalities. Miss Ekberg's big scene is a dip into the Trevi fountains in an evening gown. Nadia Gray contributes a fine strip-tease to the big orgy, and various other Italian actors contribute many forms of sin. There is no suggestion that human decency and kindness exist. Comment: spotty but powerful, revolting but fascinating; above all, controversial.

Don Giovanni (February 14) is a lavish color and hi-fidelity filming of Mozart's opera during its presentation at the Salzburg Opera Festival in Austria. A "dramma giocoso" or "gay drama" as Mozart designated it, "Don Giovanni" was first performed in 1787. The Salzburg production stars Sieppi, Della Casa and Edelmann, and runs three hours and 45 minutes.

Vincent Reale

Susanne Rowles

Dirksen and Hanson during the second half of the program.

The solo parts in the Bach and Purcell compositions will be sung by Robert White, countertenor of the New York Pro Musica. It will be his first Princeton appearance. Other vocal soloists will be Paul Solcm, Sheila Marks, Ruth Bent and Woodward Waesche.

Future Glee Club concerts include one with the Bryn Mawr College Chorus on Sunday, March 18, when the Beethoven oratorio "Christus am Oelberge" will be performed.

Festival to Repeat

A Baroque orchestra of 24 players will include Robert Heinrich and Fred Mills, first and second high trumpet players of the New York Cantata Singers. Mr. Heinrich will use a special Baroque-type small G trumpet, geared for the top parts of the Bach and Purcell works.

Judith Martin of the New York Baroque Quintet will play first oboe and oboe d'amore. The latter has a range and quality between the oboe and the English horn, and is called for particularly in the "Magnificat." John Harbison will use the Neupert double-manual harpsichord for his part. He is a Princeton resident and a graduate student at the University.

Members of the Westminster Chapel Choir, the Princeton High School Choir, the opposite Sextette, and bits and pieces of the current Triangle Club Show all will appear again for Princeton audiences.

Stuart Duncan is the Master of Ceremonies and Herbert Hohler is chairman. Proceeds from the Festival will be used to create a United Fund Foundation.

Another quote from the book, "Make Your Habits Work For You" was given to us with the suggestion that it contains a simple, but effective idea that makes for success. We'll paraphrase the gist of it: "Making a habit of doing only one thing at a time is kind of a magic formula. You can't tackle more than one thing at a time successfully. You have to see each thing or problem separately as well as part of the whole. Then you tackle that one thing and complete it before you go on to the next thing calling or worrying you. It takes mental discipline not to leave one thing half done when other things are calling for attention, but concentration on one thing at a time gives such results that it is not an exaggeration to compare it with a Magic Formula." The authors say such a formula can improve everything we do . . . and in business we can vouch for it . . . for we give you undivided attention for your greatest satisfaction, and concentrate on everything we can do for you. Music In Princeton

The club will tour Puerto Rico for the third consecutive year and will give five concerts there.

RECITAL AT HIGH SCHOOL. By Hungarian Quartet. By way of an innovation, the Princeton University Concerts presented a bonus concert on Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. The performers were the members of the Hungarian String Quartet, and they played works by Haydn, Schubert, Webern and Bartok. Whether considered as an innovation, as a program, or as a performance, the evening was a complete success.

First, the innovation: as an answer to complaints about the lack of string quartets in Series II, and about the unsuitability of McCarter Theatre for small chamber groups, this concert hit the bullseye. Larger audiences will, no doubt, be needed to make this a continuing proposition; acoustically, the hall seems to be entirely satisfactory.

The quality of the program hardly needs underlining: four masterpieces leave small room for cavil, and the encore (the finale of the Mozart G major Quartet, K. 387) was on the same level. The program alone should have filled the hall.

As for the playing, there was little that calls for anything but the highest praise. High standards of tone, attack and intonation were maintained, and many details of the playing, such as the tremolos in the Schubert G major Quartet, or the glissandi in the Bartok Third Quartet, could not have been better executed. The Western Five Pieces were given the "tender" rather than the virtuosic treatment, with the slower second and fourth movements coming off most successfully.

Only the slow movement of the Haydn Opus 77, No. 2 seemed to suffer from a prevailing tendency towards faster tempos; here there was not quite room enough between the notes to hold all the music. Most of all, the Bartok was a performance to remember—accurate, sinuous, and full of vitality; this was one of the season's musical highlights.

against Board incumbents last year, is trying for election again.

Lawrence Township. Three full terms are being sought by two incumbents and five new office-seekers. The incumbents are Herman Berenson and Mrs. Jane Baker and the newcomers are Robert F. Cottingham, George H. Conover, Jr., Richard H. Hirsch, Edward F. Stiefel and Dr. John F. Marshall. Two incumbents, R. Garrett Boetsma and James Fenimore, are not running for re-election.

In addition, Lawrence has one one-year term for which no candidate has filed. Write-in votes may determine the selection of a Board member; if there are none, the County Superintendent of Schools may make an appointment.

Montgomery Township. Six candidates are hoping for election in Montgomery, where there are three seats to fill on the school board.

Incumbents Theodore J. Lukas and Charles W. Grayson, both of Belle Mead, are running for re-election. Their opponents are Norman G. Hoagland, Frank W. Johnson, Wendell C. Miller and Mrs. Jean B. Parisio.

Hopewell Township. No incumbents are running for re-election to Hopewell Township School Board seats. Those who seek the two available positions are Thomas Cox, Thomas Kinger, Jr., Robert Applebaum, Joseph Basso, Stephen Braun, John Mauer and Mrs. Laura Spence.

Pennington. Ralph D'Attri and Michael Kestigian have filed their intentions to seek the one available seat in Pennington Borough.

Hopewell Borough. There is no contest. Incumbents William Boozer, Frank Holcombe, Jr. and Harry Cramer are all running.

"YOU'RE IN A MESS"
McHugh Tells Borough. "Potentially, you're in a hell of a mess," Dodd McHugh, Borough Planning consultant, told the Planning Board Tuesday night.
"I don't know exactly what you mean, and I'm not sure you do, either," Mr. McHugh went on, in a brief, good-humored discussion with the Board on what to do next in the master plan situation.

By "mess," Mr. McHugh said he was referring to the economic pressures that were sure to increase on the Borough as land grew scarcer and more valuable and property owners and developers asked for rezoning and use variances.

He said that since 1950, the business-commercial area had increased 33%, off-street parking 200-plus percent and residential only 14 percent.

"You must be prepared to pay a price if you want a less intensive use of Borough land," Mr. McHugh commented.

As examples of pressure, he cited the approval of garden apartments on Harrison and Franklin, approval of an office building across from Nassau Street school and inquiries about a garden apartment which had been presented to the Board only an hour before.

More Apartments? In this informal presentation, the attorney for Milton Males described the use Mr. Males and his associates would like to make of the 5½ acres of land owned by Charles LaPlace of Harrison and Spruce Streets.

Plans call for 180 apartment units in three two-story buildings, with swimming pool, tennis courts, construction of Spruce through to Harrison and 185 parking spaces.

Rental space would be $95 to $105 for a 12 x 24 foot efficiency apartment up to $165 to $175 for the largest unit; a three-room apartment with separate kitchen.

The apartments have been expressly designed to attract single persons or childless couples and would not, therefore, create a school problem, the spokesman said.

The attorney estimated a

Where To Vote

Polls will be open for school elections on Tuesday from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Polling places are:

Princeton Borough: Elections Districts 1, 2, 3; Elementary School Gym; District 4, 5, 8 Elementary School auditorium; Districts 6, 7, Witherspoon School Gym.

Princeton Township: Election Districts 1, 4, at Valley Road School; 2, 7, 8 at Johnson Park School; 3, 9, at Riverside School; 5, 6, at Littlebrook School.

West Windsor: Election District 1, Dutch Neck Town Hall; 2, Penns Neck School.

Lawrence Township: Election Districts 1, 4, 7, 13, Lawrenceville Public School; 2, 5, 9, 10, Slackwood School; 3, 6, Eldridge Park; 8, 11, 12, Lawrence Junior High.

Montgomery Township: District 1, Township Municipal Building, Harlingen; 2, Blawenburg Church House.

$35,000 tax increment to the Borough if the apartments were allowed. The land lies in an R-3 residential zone and he said that, if the Planning Board gave any indication that the project might be approved, his client would proceed with formal plans and would subsequently ask for a use variance.

Following their discussion of the master plan with Mr. McHugh, members of the Board agreed to defer any decision on the apartment project until they have met with Mr. McHugh late in April to talk over a draft of the revised master plan which the consultant will submit at a special meeting on April 17.

"Basically, there is nothing wrong with the 1950 Master Plan, except that it hasn't been followed," Mr. McHugh told the Board. He gave as a specific instance the lack of progress in obtaining by-passes to siphon trucks off Princeton streets and he said that getting through-traffic out of Princeton was the town's chief problem.

The most specific instruction given to the planner was the injunction to consider only Borough and Township populations (not students) and to stay away from a seven-mile radius approach. It was also suggested that he consider a housing code as an alternative to Federally-financed urban renewal projects.

In other action, the Board agreed to consider next month the proposal of the Borough Housing Authority for a new ordinance creating an R-6 residential zone for public housing. The ordinance would have made the Witherspoon Lane property sought by the Authority for old-age housing, part of an R-6 zone.

Bruce French, who at one time headed the Authority in its search for public housing sites, appeared Tuesday on the other side of the fence, representing H. G. Houghton, owner of the Houghton Building on Witherspoon, who seeks to prevent the Authority from acquiring the vacant Houghton lot adjoining his building.

Mr. French reminded the Board that the Authority had had, during his tenure with it, an option to buy the property now owned by Houghton, but had let it drop after advice from Federal officials that it was not feasible to build there.

Action was postponed because the new counsel for the Authority explained that he had not had time to become familiar with the case.

MORE STUDIES PLANNED

On Possible School Site. Plans for further studies regarding possible use of an 18½ acre lot belonging to Westminster Choir College as a site for new elementary schools for Princeton Borough were announced Monday night at a special meeting of the Borough Board of Education.

shortest ever held by the board, Graham Rohrer, president, read a brief statement issued jointly by the negotiating committees of the board and the Choir College. The board then voted to authorize appropriations of up to $2,500 to finance the additional studies.

The board's statement "Continued progress in the conversations between a special committee of trustees of the Westminster Choir College and the Princeton Borough Board of Education concerning the use of the Walnut Lane tract was reported after their joint meeting on Friday, February 2.

"Further studies will be made and the talks continued in an effort to develop the best facilities for elementary education in the Borough of Princeton and to insure adequate opportunity for growth of the Westminster Choir College."

Studies Not Defined. The exact nature of the additional studies to be made was not defined. When questioned on this point, Mr. Rohrer referred back to the official statement and said, "I cannot amplify that statement and keep faith with our agreement."

No specific date was set for any further announcements about the negotiations. Mr. Rohrer did say, however, that no announcement was expected until the end of February or the beginning of March. The board will hold its regular monthly meeting and reorganization meeting on Monday, February 19, but no news is anticipated at that time regarding the land negotiations.

GOAL RAISED

By Princeton Day Schools. The general gifts goal of the Princeton Day Schools' development campaign has been doubled to $100,000 following attainment of the original $50,000 mark. Mrs. Robert Wright of Lower Harrison Street is chairman of the general gifts committee, whose solicitations include 85 percent of the alumni, parents and friends of Princeton Country Day School and Miss Fine's School.

In reporting the change in goal Malcolm Muir Jr., campaign chairman, said the professional fund raisers, who set the original amount "greatly underestimated the broad and gratifying community enthusiasm for our new educational venture."

The amount estimated to be necessary for the new institution on its Great Road campus is $3,050,000. Of this, just over $1,054,000 has been raised. Dr. Harold W. Dadds is president of Princeton Day Schools.

Commenting on the new school, Mr. Muir said, "Using the intellectual and academic resources of our extraordinary community, the trustees, sponsors and faculties of Princeton Day Schools are determined to create, and are working toward creating a school that could be an educational proto-

Cycle Routes Planned

Student bicyclists in Princeton Borough may soon have special sidewalk routes worked out for them, and much of the credit goes to the Borough PTA.

Mrs. J. Merrill Knapp, PTA president, mentioned the plans for the bicycle routes at Monday's meeting of the Borough Board of Education, and Dr. Chester R. Stroup, superintendent of schools, said that the plans had been approved by the school administration and were now in the hands of Princeton Borough Council.

The plans involve re-drafting Borough ordinances to provide for a safe sidewalk route pattern for cyclists. The project has been under the direction of Mrs. D. Barton Stevens, first vice-president of the PTA.

type, that could have a pervasive effect on secondary education everywhere."

1800 HOUSES?

Proposed for West Windsor. A developer's proposal to build 1800 houses on approximately 1,000 acres of land in West Windsor Township was presented informally to the Planning Board last week by Abraham Pomer from Palisades, N. Y.

Mr. Pomer told the Board he would build a school, sewers, a water company and would bring in "an industry" to help the Township's tax rolls.

The land, which adjoins East Windsor Township, is zoned for rural use and has a minimum lot size of 150 x 200 feet. Mr. Pomer would like to have the zoning changed so that he could build on lots 75 by 150.

Many farmers in West Windsor, whose land might be purchased by the developer, attended the Planning Board meeting and expressed keen interest in the project.

A committee of Planning Board members will examine the proposal at a special meeting later this month.

Warren B. Cook was named chairman of the Planning Board at the meeting and Robert L. Holiday vice-chairman.

WOMAN FINED

For Careless Driving. Mrs. Ida Mae Hillman, 20 28 Station Drive, Princeton Junction, was fined $20 by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. Monday for careless driving.

Magistrate Tams also ordered Mrs. Hillman to submit to a reexamination by the Motor Vehicle Department. She pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Mary T. Porches, 49 5 Greenview Avenue, was fined $12 for an improper turn, and Samuel A. Strixton, 50 Springhill Road, Skillman, $15 for illegally mounting a red light on the front of his car. A University student, George W. Dickey, 19, Dod Hall, paid a $10 fine for improper display of license plates.

In criminal court, Peter Sannino, 40, 16 Oakland Road, was fined $50 and $10 court costs as a disorderly person. Mr. Sannino was accused of striking Peter A. Nelson, 69, of Hamilton Square, at police headquarters last October 3. He pleaded not guilty.

TEACHERS WILL QUERY

Will Answer, Too, Teachers. Guidance counselors, administrative personnel and parents will exchange questions and answers during the February 20th meeting of the Princeton High School PTA scheduled to meet at 8 in the school auditorium.

Panels of school officials will answer questions from parents, and will then pose questions for the parents to answer. The questions will be based on the respective roles of school and parent in all aspects of guidance.

A brief preliminary meeting will acquaint all parents with the nature and scope of the high school's guidance program.

KNIGHTS TO MEET

Twice in February, Members of the Knights of Columbus, Princeton Council 636, will gather next Monday and Monday, February 26 at 8 p.m. for their regular meetings at the club house, 111 Prospect Avenue.

The program on the 26th will be an Open House, to which members have been asked to bring guests who might be interested in joining the group. The Rev. William J. Carlton will be the speaker at this meeting.

SCHOOL HEAD TO SPEAK

At Democratic Meeting. Graham Rohrer, president of the Borough Board of Education, will speak at a meeting of the Princeton Democratic Club to be held next Wednesday evening at 8:30 at the Chestnut Street Fire House. Mr. Rohrer will focus his talk on the need for new elementary school buildings and the Board's proposals to meet those needs.

The club's president, Robert W. van de Velde, stressed that the discussion would be non-political and that all those interested would be welcome. He indicated that this was the first of a planned series of talks, which would be entitled, "Princeton Democrats Look at Their Town."

PTA PLANS DISCUSSION

On Children's Initiative. The second of a series of study group meetings of the Valley Road Parent-Teachers Association will be held in the library of the Valley Road School next Wednesday at 8. Dr. Simon Marcson, professor of Psychology at Princeton University, will moderate a panel and group discussion following the showing of a film, "The Two Wheeled Bike."

The subject of the discussion will be "Developing Initiative in Children." Mrs. Eldon Epp, guidance counselor at Valley Road, and Dr. John Valentine, Director of Examinations at with the Allen touch...

It's that time of year again, and quite frankly, men, she's expecting something. You know how the fair sex is on St. Valentine's Day.

This year February 14 falls on a Wednesday—smack in the middle of your work week. On speculation that you may be chained to your desk and unable to personally select your floral Valentine from our vast selection, we are prepared to give your phone calls special attention.

Nothing quite says "I love you, sweetheart" like flowers. And our flowers, dewy fresh, are sure to please her. Phone us at HO 6-0062. We will suggest the appropriate and deliver your flowers with a flair. You may charge it, of course.

Touch her—touch her deeply with flowers.

Committees, attention: we will be open until 7 p.m. on Valentine's Day.

Apartment Plan Protested.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Edgell Street is one of the few old streets in Princeton left unspoiled by traffic or incongruous buildings, and the proposal of the Seminary to destroy its character by erecting a 28-apartment housing group must distress a great many Princetonians who enjoy looking at it, as well as those who live there.

Distressing also, and ominous, is the implication, in the Seminary's request for a use variance or special permit, that zoning laws really don't mean very much, and that, given enough pressure of the right kind, any area zoned for single residences may be inflicted with the chaos and noise that multiple housing brings with it.

If the Seminary needs additional housing, and if the bars of the zoning laws are to be let down, the two red brick houses on the south side of Stockton Street and the corner of Library Place might be torn down, un lamented, and the needed buildings put there, without disturbing so many people.

As to dedicating the proposed buildings to Dr. Erdman, I can't believe he would have liked to see destroyed not only the charm of one of the few parts of old Princeton left, but also the peace and quiet of his old neighbors.

Poll the People.

To the Editor of Town Topics: In your last issue, February 4-10, there was a most informative article on the coming school board election.

The most interesting comment was Mrs. Susan Strayer's in response to Mrs. Loetscher's statement that she did not think the citizens want school consolidation. Mrs. Strayer's response was "Have you ever asked them?" Why not ask the taxpayers in both Borough and Township in this manner? Attach to the next tax bill a slip with the following questions to be returned when taxes are paid:

Are you in favor of full consolidation of Borough and Township?

Yes..... No.....

If not in favor of full consolidation, are you in favor of consolidation of schools?

Yes..... No.....

Perhaps other questions could be added, but right now these seem to be the most important ones, and a questionnaire added to the tax bill would reach most interested citizens.

Land Purchase Favored.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Below is a copy of a letter which I have sent to Mr. Graham Rohrer, president of the Borough Board of Education:

Dear Mr. Rohrer: My name is Mrs. Paul Roediger. I live at 361 Nassau Street and I am a property owner in the Borough.

First of all I should like to express my sincere appreciation to the members of the present Board of Education who have rendered such excellent and efficient service to our community. It is very easy for some to sit on the sidelines and criticize, but I want to say 'thank you' for a job well done.

I, as a tax payer, am very much in favor of the acquisition of the land owned by the Westminster Choir College if it can be obtained fairly and peacefully.

I graduated from Princeton High School in 1919, one of a class of 33 members. At that time our high school was located in the building now known as our elementary school. To the best of my recollection, that school was erected about 52 years ago.

Adult School to Open—Some Classes Still Open

I feel that the building is out-moded and as a grandmother of four children who are attending the public schools in Princeton, I feel it is time for a new modern school center to be built for our teachers and Borough students.

I do not believe the Borough and Township Schools should consolidate at this time.

Consolidation Study Essential.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The plan of the Borough Board of Education to acquire land of the Westminster Choir College for a new school building is not, as might appear at first glance, a matter of interest to the Borough alone. It raises in dramatic fashion the question of consolidation of the Borough and Township and their respective school districts. For this reason, I hope that a few comments by a Township resident will not be considered out of order.

So little progress has been made to date on the much-discussed consolidation fact-finding study that the Borough Board of Education would have much justification in wondering whether anything at all will happen on this front. But the issue is certainly warming up and it is the reasonable hope of several people that this study will not be long in getting launched and will be completed without delay. The suggestion might therefore be made to this Board in the Borough that it take into account, in planning its own time schedule, the prospect of having such a fact-finding study completed within the year.

There are two reasons for offering this suggestion. One is that with a consolidated school system the new building contemplated for the Choir College land might be unnecessary.

It is at least possible that careful cost calculations would show a more rational and economical solution to be the adding of classroom space onto the three present Township elementary schools (all well located from the standpoint of the Borough population centers) and the use, and perhaps further development, of the Community Park-Valley Road complex for Grades 6 through 8. This seems to me an arrangement that would certainly be worth the time of all concerned to examine carefully.

The second consideration should be even more compelling to the Borough Board of Education. It can be stated quite bluntly: the present situation of the Township vis-a-vis the Borough in the matter of the high school is not likely to endure for very long.

The Township now sends more students to the high school than does the Borough and therefore pays a larger share of the cost. There is already some dissatisfaction with

In the second hour lecture series, the school will offer a course in the theatre, with emphasis on factors that have contributed to the theatre as it exists today.

Those who attend the course will have an opportunity to attend the spring McCarter Theatre series at reduced rates.

Space remains in the two-hour sessions devoted to intermediate bridge, sculpture, toile painting and stenciling, jewelry making, refresher shorthand and in some language sections.

Anyone interested in enrolling should be at the high school by 7:30 p.m. this Thursday to register.

the present arrangement which gives Township taxpayers no voice whatever in the management of the high school.

Restiveness on this score is bound to grow. I cannot see that there is any satisfactory answer short of a consolidated school system. Any school district consolidation raises all of the difficult questions in full municipal consolidation.

With a fair sharing in the control of the high school by all the taxpayers who help to support it in Borough and Township, and thereby with the harnessing of the total abilities and energies of the Princeton community to this educational effort, we could easily have a high school that would be one of true distinction. We already have a good high school but ours in a community like Princeton should rank with the top five in the country. As indirect as the connection may seem, this is in fact the issue which is raised by the current plans of the Borough Board of Education.

Aid Sought for Library.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The PTA of the Moriah Yeshiva Academy of New Brunswick, solicits the help of this community in developing a library that will be in keeping with the high standards of education maintained at the school. The present library facilities are very outdated and inadequate.

In a university community where the necessity of an outstanding education is recognized, the books, maps, records, reference material and suitable periodicals stored in attics and basements is a good source with which to build this library. It would be appreciated if anyone who has such materials would lend or donate them to this worthy project.

There is urgent need also for a globe, bookcases and storage shelves, and desks or suitable work tables, and a phonograph. Since the children of our community are the future of our community, any contributions to this library project are an investment in our future.

Please direct donations and requests for information or pick-up service to Mrs. Shirley Livingston, 95 Chester Circle, New Brunswick, CH 6-0212.

GREENE TO EXHIBIT

At Gallery 100. Paintings and drawings by Stephen Greene, University artist in residence from 1937 to 1939, will be exhibited at Gallery 100 from this Monday through Saturday, March 3. The works come from Staempfli Gallery, New York City.

Mr. Greene has been chosen by the Museum of Modern Art to represent this country in the Sao Paulo Biennial. He has had two shows at the Guggenheim Museum, and was selected by the international council of the Museum of Modern Art for its "American Drawings" exhibit in South America last year.

His works are contemporary, and the struggle of forms is enveloped in space. In his major paintings, color is used symbolically for dramatic and abstract effect.

STEIN SHOW SET

For Three Sundays. A group of paintings and drawings by the late Beatrice Stein (Mrs. Francis Steenmuller) will be shown at the Aparri School of Dance, 217 Nassau Street, for the next three Sundays from 3 to 6.

She was the first pupil of the French painter, Jacques Villon, and studied with Walter Pach in New York City prior to working with M. Villon in Paris. Her first one-man show was held ten years ago at the Argent Gallery in New York City, and her work was exhibited in group shows in Paris and this country. Another one-man show was held in Santa Fe, N. M.

In 1952, her work was included in the Metropolitan Museum's "American Water-colors and Drawings." Her last exhibition of drawings was held at the Carstairs Gallery, New York, shortly before her death last spring.

In a preface to the catalogue of that exhibit, M. Villon wrote, "These drawings are a distillation of Beatrice Stein's life, of landscapes she has loved in France and elsewhere, of everyday details that she has jotted down, recorded, written in shorthand, a shorthand of the heart."

"Her drawings do not aim at facile effects. Each of them has been dictated by a deeply felt experience." M. Villon also wrote of her "tender figure paintings and vigorous still-lives." Examples of her different styles will be included in the Princeton exhibit.

Question of the Week

Question: What is your opinion of the twist?

Where asked: Around town.

Mrs. Harry Feltenstein, 124 Edgerstoune Road, housewife: I think the twist is charming when it is done by people who are under 18. It has a kind of athletic innocence. But I don't think it should be done by mature adults. Then it becomes aesthetically ugly. It looks more like an exertion than a dance. They pant so much!

Miss Priscilla Rogers, 210 Shady Brook Lane, Princeton High School senior: I think it's a lot of fun! If people would think about it in the right way instead of looking upon it as something immoral and try it themselves, I think they would find it a lot of fun, too. And the idea that it is dangerous to do, is ridiculous.

Richard Traegler, 28 Chestnut Street, Princeton High School senior: It's fun to a certain extent and I like to watch it myself. But when I start doing it, I can only last halfway through the record before my side starts hurting me.

Gail Lloyd, 36 Doran Avenue, Princeton High School senior: I think the twist is here to stay. The university clubs would be nothing without it. I think many adults after watching it really like it. At least it gives them something to talk about—how terrible teenagers are.

Otto Heidenreich, 130 Nassau Street, owner of Swedish Massage Studio: I love dancing in any form but I don't think the twist is a very nice dance. I think it is just a little low grade. It's not a dance of beauty. Dancing is an art and a means of expression and the twist doesn't measure up to these standards. Even rock 'n' roll, if done properly, is a nice dance. But the twist: it goes too far back in Africa.

Miss Suzy Scarff, 57 Hodge Road, Radcliffe senior: I think it's passe. There are only two things you can do with the twist: you can learn it or you can teach it. But it's dull just to do it for a long time. It's just one step.

Fred Capers, Carter Road, insurance salesman: I think it is a good answer to Vic Tanny.

Mrs. John Gunn, Carter Road, housewife: I don't think the twist is here to stay any more than the Charleston. I think it is a good outlet for the kids, though, they have to do something.

Martin Cohn, Hun School senior: My opinion of the twist is that it is the furthest I've seen sexual symbolism carried into dancing yet.

Mrs. Alice Kristeller, 46 Park Avenue, housewife: I think it's dreadful. I suppose you have to go along with the youngsters—I liked the Charleston when I was young—but I think the twist is pretty ugly. I like a little more grace in my dances.

Thomas Bradley, 234 Passaic Avenue, Trenton, busboy for Nassau Coffee Shop: I kinda go for it. You get yourself in shape for one thing. Everybody's do it and if you're not, you're kinda behind. It's a nice dance: I go for it.

Miss Marianna Kennedy, Tufts University senior: I just got back from Boston where they've banned it. It's caused the biggest stir. You can only do it at private parties now. I think the twist is nice when it's not obscene and done in good taste. I like it.

Mrs. Robert O'Connor, 37 Ridgeview Circle, housewife: It looks like a lot of fun for the children. Other than that, no comment.

Mrs. Philip Collins, 12 Boudinot Street, housewife: I think it is great fun to watch and I've tried to do it in private, but it just doesn't come out too well so I refuse to indulge in public. I really enjoy watching other people do it, though.

Charles J. Record, Dodge-Osborne Hall, University junior: I like it. I think it's a good dance; it is easy to keep time to and the music has a good rhythm. It's an easy dance.

Mrs. Frank Engle, 110 Bayard Lane, practical nurse: I don't think it is conducive to health. I have not heard good reports from the doctors about it. I heard of one girl that hurt her back and of another who twisted her knee doing it.

Mrs. Kevin Kennedy, Herantown Road, housewife: I think it is a great exercise. That's all I have to say.

Mrs. Alice Livingstone, 166 Witherspoon Street, housewife, (native of Beirut, Lebanon): It's something nice for the wild, young American teenagers and it's exciting for the adult people to look at. I think they feel young again watching it. Personally, I don't like it; it's too wild for me. I prefer a waltz or a tango.

DIET IS GREAT BUT NOT THE ENTIRE ANSWER

Many women on rigid diets discover that mere weight loss does not guarantee a more attractive figure.

Very often, as excess weight disappears, body and skin become unattractively loose and flabby. Without a method of firming and toning sagging skin and muscles while dieting, many of the unsightly bulges remain. A feeling of fatigue and weakness often appears.

Scientifically planned exercise and massage, combined with a sensible diet will help control these problem areas. Your entire body will be stimulated as muscles become firm to give your figure a more pleasing appearance. Fatigue disappears and you will feel youthfully alive.

Figurama's modern, scientific slenderizing methods will help control these problem areas without effort and without dieting.

CHANGES IN THE WIND
For PHIS English Dept. Students at Princeton High School this year are participants in an exciting educational experiment which may lead to extensive revision of the school's English curriculum.

The experiment includes adding new books to the required reading list, increasing the amount of reading and the amount of theme writing, and trying out new methods to improve the quality of the students' writing.

"This is all part of a general survey of the curriculum which is a continuing project in the Borough schools," explained Dr. Chester R. Stroup, superintendent.

"Within the last 10 years we have made extensive revisions in science, mathematics and modern languages. Now we're concentrating on English."

Began Last Year. The English curriculum revision began last year with the appointment of a committee of outside consultants, all experts in the field.

Committee members were Dr. Paul B. Diederich of Educational Testing Service; Dr. Louise M. Rosenblatt (Mrs. Sidney Ratner) of New York University; Dr. Willard Thorp of Princeton University; and Dr. Herman Walz of Trenton State Teachers College.

These consultants met with the 15 members of the Princeton High School English Department, plus Superintendent Stroup and William H. Rhodes, principal of Princeton High. Out of the discussions came two general recommendations: the required reading material should be re-evaluated, and new methods for improving the quality of written work should be explored.

Following the resignation last June of Dr. John Arscott, chairman of the English Department, Dr. Ward was appointed consultant in English for the 1961-62 school year, with responsibility for leading the department.

Experiments Underway. Under Dr. Ward's leadership, many new projects have been undertaken to implement the original recommendations of the consultant committee. Many of these are experimental, and only the most successful will eventually become a permanent part of the curriculum.

The first recommendation, a re-evaluation of the required reading material, tied in neatly with a six-year expansion program for the school library. The program is now entering its second year.

GOING UP! Book circulation at Princeton High School, that is, it has increased by 1,000 books a month since new reading program was inaugurated this year. Program involves book talks by school librarian Mrs. Roger H. McDonough and student selection of books from mobile cart. Picking out books here are Boony Chang, 14, freshman, of Mt. Lucas Road, and Dan Gelbaum, sophomore, of 281 Jefferson Road. (Staff Photos)

"We've been following the ideas of the committee as to the nature of the material purchased for the library," Mr. Rhodes explained. "We're not only increasing the number of books—we hope to have 15,000 eventually—but we're also including a much greater variety."

To encourage the students to make use of this greater variety of books, the school librarian, Mrs. Roger H. McDonough, visits the classroom, at the request of the teacher, and gives a brief talk on books which tie in with the field under study, such as short stories, novels, or biographies.

Books on the Move. The books described by Mrs. McDonough are then brought directly to the classroom on a mobile cart, and each student can pick out the book which interests him most and read it during reading period.

The combination of book talks and easy access to many different books has already produced a marked increase in the amount of student reading. So far this year, library circulation has jumped by the amazing figure of approximately 1,000 books a month.

As the school year progresses, the required reading list will be revised, with students' preferences during the year taken into account. A specific aim will be the inclusion of modern classics.

The increase in reading is also expected to be a major factor in implementing the committee's second recommendation—improving the quality of written work.

Literature and writing are concomitant," said Dr. Stroup. "Good writing is, in a great part, a reaction and response to reading good literature."

Themes, Themes. To bridge the gap between reading and writing, a good deal more written work is being assigned, on the theory that the only way to improve one's writing is to do more and more writing.

Since there is a limit to the number of papers a teacher can read, Princeton High is experimenting with the sampling technique to handle the increased amount of written work.

Under the sampling technique, the teacher skims over all the papers and then picks a few for detailed examination and grading. Since the papers are picked at random, a student never knows when one of his papers will be chosen for grading.

If a student has a particular piece of work which he would like to have graded, he can make a special request, which will be honored by the teacher.

"Buzz Sessions." In addition, the classes are sometimes divided into small groups of five or six students, with each member of the group reading a piece of his work for criticism by the others. "These criticism periods, which have been dubbed 'buzz sessions,' are becoming increasingly popular with the students."

"The students were reluctant at first, but they are really starting to enjoy it now," said Dr. Stroup. "We are very pleased, because we think it's important for a student's writing to be shared with someone other than the teacher."

The increased amount of writing is designed to help the students improve their work mechanically as well as creatively.

"We think the grammar lessons should be an outgrowth of writing," said Mr. Rhodes. "When a teacher finds the same errors regularly in the same student's papers, she can give him an explanation that has real meaning for him. This is much more effective than trying to get across grammar rules by themselves."

These approaches to writing, along with the other projects, add up to what Dr. Stroup describes frankly as "a year of experimentation."

"There undoubtedly will be some curriculum changes after this year," he said. "But that won't be the end of our study of the English program, or of other courses, either. Curriculum is never fixed. It's always evolving. The only way we can keep a top-flight program is through constant experimentation and innovation."

HOW TO WRITE A BOOK

Author Will Speak. Keith Robertson, writer of children's books, will talk about the nature of his craft at the next meeting of the West Windsor Township P.T.A.

The program will be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the West Windsor School in conjunction with the P.T.A.'s annual Book Fair, which is scheduled for next Wednesday.

sand or brown with buttons three-quarters of the way down the front, a narrow rope belt (all rope belts are narrower) and short raglan sleeves. Poring over the rack, we found this one later on in a bright mustard.

Lynbrook's dacron and cotton in mustard has bands of white stitching around the neckline, wooden buttons, roll-up sleeves and deep pockets on the flared skirt.

The shop takes a more formal view with a rayon linen two-piece that has a square neck banded with three-inches of embroidery repeated on the short-sleeved jacket. This jacket defies fashion by having a little round collar, by the way. Colors are green or sand. The dress is cap-sleeved, the jacket short-sleeved.

For travel, you will probably want an all-dacron sheer in a pale blue, pale turquoise, pale jade print with big, soft wheels on a big, soft skirt that will never muss in transit.

Sportswear devotees will head for the rack of linen skirts in powder blue or chocolate. Many are cut like short culottes, and the colors in these—lime, gold, olive, light blue, coral—are picked up by a collection of sheer print blouses in colorful, out-of-focus flower prints.

HANG IT ALL

Bahadurian Does—Mostly. In a new, cinder-block vault 21 feet high, adjoining the other cleaning and storing rooms on the premises at 883 State Road, Samuel Bahadurian can now dry 20 room-size rugs and a host of smaller rugs, after they have been cleaned with his modern rug-cleaning equipment.

Any rug up to 15 feet in width, and any length you happen to have lying around, can be accommodated in this huge drying chamber which is serviced by three distributing fans 24 inches in diameter and an oil heater called a "Silent Glow" which is not silent at all and does not glow, but which performs magnificently in all other respects.

The ceiling in this new drying vault is moisture-proof and explosion-proof and the air and humidity are controlled by a thermostat which protects your valuable rugs from drying out too rapidly but provides enough dry heat to do them just right.

In spite of all this new equipment and space, Mr. Bahadurian likes best to dry his client's rare antique rugs, some of which are indescribably valuable and fragile, right out on the grass, face down, year round.

Drying on the grass seems to give a softness of finish that no other drying process can achieve, but Mr. B. would have to own Palmer Stadium in order to dry all his rugs like this, so the new drying chamber is the answer.

Even here, he dries fragile or valuable rugs face down on the floor to protect them from their own weight. In a drying chamber, rugs are hung by their ends from poles, and the fibers of old rugs can break during this process.

Rugs cleaned by Mr. Bahadurian are stored for delivery in separate fibreboard tubes of 31 Tee-Ar Place against so that, in reality, each rug is on the top of the pile and is never crushed by rugs above it.

Dear TRAVELEX,

Paris is FUN no matter what time of the year you go! We're staying at the HOTEL PRINCE DE GALLES and intend to do some Cafe sitting. It's fun to see how the same type of people sit in particular sidewalk cafes.

We thought it would be a good idea to rent a car in France, too, and take a side trip to see some out of the way castles in the country. We'll take a road to the southwest, down to Bordeaux, France's fourth largest city, the center of a great wine and brandy making district that ranks with Paris and Lyon as a gastronomic capital.

Some of the most beautiful chateaux in the world are along the way. Along the Loire Valley we'll find some of the best food and most beautiful architecture we'll find anywhere. We're going to take our time through here and just savor everything as we go along.

Next week we'll plan some more!

THIS STUDENTS COLLECT $1022 FOR CARE: In their annual drive for a charity, the students of Princeton High School have collected $1022.16 for CARE. Accepting a check in that amount is William H. STUDENTS GIVE $1022

To CARE. In a fine display of humanitarian giving, Princeton High School students have raised $1022.16 during a three-week charity drive. The money was turned over to CARE which the student body voted to support this year after having contributed to the March of Dimes in previous years.

William H. Rhodes, high school principal, accepted the money in behalf of CARE. In thanking the students for their generosity, Mr. Rhodes said that "No man is as tall as when he stoops to help another." The high school conducts a campaign for charity every year.

The drive ran from January 10 through 31. Most of the money, $726.59, constituted homeroom collections. Alison McCord and Carol Randall served as co-chairmen of the drive.

A total of $115.40 was collected from the receipts of a basketball game between the senior boys and the faculty. Admission to the game was a contribution. To provide further funds, the price of candy was increased at the game. Another $68.97 was raised by students for the privilege of eating their lunch in the senior lunch room while listening to hi-fi music.

The annual selection of a King and Queen of the drive was also made. Student Council members nominated candidates and the price of voting was a further contribution to CARE. This provided an additional $111.20.

Candidates for queen were Bonnie Dean, Carol Scharf, Elaine Wilcox, Anita Vanderschick, Susan Brown and Danielle Golden. For king: John Bensinger, George Russo, Charles Yaffee, Thomas Reynolds, Donald Cooper and Jay Breese. Carol Scharf and George Russo were crowned.

The money will be used to send CARE kits to eight different countries: Egypt, Korea, Philippines, Colombia, Greece, Vietnam, Ecuador and Mexico plus Hong Kong, China.

ANTIQUE LECTURES SET

Staloff To Instruct. Lester M. Staloff, auctioneer and antique dealer, will give a series of 10 lectures on antiques under sponsorship of the Flower Committee of the Women's Auxiliary of Mercer Hospital, Trenton.

The lectures, which will be given on consecutive Tuesdays beginning February 13 and ending April 17, will be presented from 10 a.m. to noon in the Synod Hall of Trinity Cathedral, West State Street and Overbrook Avenue, Trenton.

The lectures will cover various phases of antique collecting, from identification of different pieces to history and refashioning. Admission to the entire series will be through a $20 donation to the Flower Committee.

SUMMER CAMP TOPIC

OF YMCA Rally. A discussion on how to choose a summer camp for your child will be one of the features of the Princeton YMCA's day and resident camping rally to be held February 16 at 7:30 at the YMCA on Avalon Place. The event will also feature a colored film produced by John Roylance, a member of the Central N. J. YMCA Camp staff and slides of the day camp program. Edward Robinson, director of Central New Jersey Y camps, will be present to talk about new programs.

DELTA GAMMA TO MEET

Alumnae Plan Program. The Trenton-Delaware Valley Delta Gamma Alumnae Chapter will meet this Thursday at 10 a.m. for coffee at the home of Mrs. Curtis A. Mitchell, 23 Braeburn Drive.

Mrs. Ray H. Bryan, group president, will conduct the meeting which will hear a report from the nominating committee on the slate of officers for next year. Plans will also be made for the Annual Founders' Day Luncheon to be held the last Saturday in March.

COFFEE FOR NEWCOMERS

At the "Y." The Newcomers Club book group will be the hostess at a coffee meeting at the Y building on Avalon Place next Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Raymond Male, chairman of the non-resident division of the International Hospitality Committee of Princeton, will speak about the work of the Committee and relate some of the experiences encountered while entertaining foreign visitors.

The head of each interest group of the Newcomers Club will be on hand to discuss the activities of her particular group and answer questions. New membership books will be distributed at the meetings, and nursery care will be available for pre-school children.

DOGWOODS TO MEET

Topic: Birds. Members of the Dogwood Garden Club will meet this Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jack Copeland, 61 Overbrook Drive.

Mrs. Ralph Fox will speak on "How to Attract Birds to Your Garden."

BIRTH LIST

Hospital Has 15 Arrivals. A total of 16 children, nine of them girls, have been born to Princeton area residents in Princeton Hospital. Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wight, 21 Royal Oak Road, Lawrenceville, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marti, Lawrenceville-Pennington Road, Trenton, on January 28.

Other parents of girls included Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hall, Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction; Mr. and Mrs. John Schumacher, Washington Road, Rocky Hill; and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Van Skillman, 52 Harriet Drive, all on January 29.

SCIENCE In Princeton

SCALE IS REFINED

By New Computer. A new computer with absolute pitch has solved, for electronic organs at any rate, the insurmountable problem of the perfect keyboard scale.

H. M. Waage, 17 Leavitt Lane, has received a patent for his "Pitch Fidelity System," a computer device which modifies the tuning system of an electronic organ so that a chord can be a perfect chord, and not the "well-tempered" chord of the standard organ or piano keyboard.

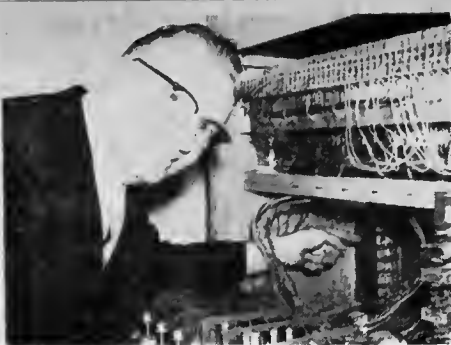

A violin, a trombone or a human voice can produce a C-sharp that is a true C-sharp and different in pitch from a D-flat. Mr. Waage points out, but on the standard tempered keyboard, a compromise has been reached between the two tones and a single key serves for both C-sharp and D-flat.

This means that choir directors and music teachers have a problem in training the ear of the student vocalist or the singer. With Mr. Waage's "enharmonic organ," as he calls it, a student can be trained to hear the one-seventh of a semitone difference between C-sharp and D-flat, and to sing it on pitch.

Precision with a Switch. The Waage computer is attached to the inside of an electronic organ and the organist or teacher activates it by flipping a switch at the right side of the keyboard.

When the computer is on and the organist plays two keys together, he completes a circuit which goes into the computer. The device knowing the difference between sharps and flats, not only makes the necessary adjustment, but knows which key in the chord to adjust.

For example, if the organist has played a D-flat-F third, the computer allows the D-flat to remain as it is, and lowers the F to a true F-natural. In an A-C-sharp chord, the computer knows that the C-sharp is sharper than it should be for perfect chord, so it lowers the C-sharp just enough to make a precise third.

COMPUTER AND PARENT: H. M. Waage, shown here with his invention, a "Pitch Fidelity System," installed in the viscera of an electronic organ, reminds laymen that "computer" doesn't always mean numbers and figures. In this case, the computer receives information relayed to it from an organ keyboard and responds by modifying the organ's tuning system to produce a refined scale. More on Mr. Waage's invention in story, this page. (Staff Photo)

When the keys are depressed and the computer is on, all A-C-sharp triads the length of the keyboard are corrected. The computer knows only that the player has told it to adjust C-sharp, and so it adjusts every C-sharp up and down the line.

Difference is Sharp. The differences in pitch are particularly noticeable with such exaggerated organ stops as the flute, and when Mr. Waage sounds a chord and flips the switch back and forth, turning the computer on and off, the one-seventh of a semitone difference is sharply audible even to an untrained ear.

By using the switch and turning the computer on and off in this manner, a voice teacher can illustrate dramatically the difference between a tempered and a true scale, and can train his students to sing a true tone. Mr. Waage foresees a wide use of his patent in music schools for this purpose.

To adapt his invention to a standard pipe organ would be immensely difficult, Mr. Waage says, because separate devices would have to be installed on each pipe, and to install it in a piano would be difficult because the vibrating length of each string would have to be altered.

In addition, the tones, as sounded by a piano, don't last long enough for the ear to hear the beating between overtones that occurs when a tempered chord is sounded.

The inventor has been affiliated for 18 years with the physics department at Princeton where he is in charge of arranging lecture-demonstrations for the teaching of physics. This is his first patented invention, although he devises many original displays in the course of his work.

For Tiger Basketball Team. All that will keep Princeton's basketball team in the running for the Ivy League title this year is a victory Friday night over Cornell at Ithaca. Despite the Red's unexpected 60-58 loss to Dartmouth at Hanover last week, it will be extremely tough to heat at home.

That, however, is the situation confronting the hard-pressed Princetonians after they handed Yale an 80-78 over-time triumph Saturday in Dillon Gymnasium. The loss was their first after 24 consecutive Ivy victories at home.

Having won on the road from a first division team—the only Ivy entry to do so this season—the Elis are now clear-cut favorites to take the 1962 title. Form is often shattered in this unpredictable circuit, but should it hold up, the Blue will finish with a 12-2 mark, losing only to Cornell at Ithaca and defeating all other opponents left on its schedule at home and away.

That the Bulldogs can be taken was proved in highly convincing fashion Friday night by Penn, which topped them, 71 to 49, in the Palestra. A tight zone pared the Yale attack to a trickle; had Princeton been able to duplicate the feat, the Tigers would have been in a solid position in the race with a 4-2 record and only the road game with Cornell likely to prove more than it could handle.

Tigers Gift-Minded. It may have been that the friendly aura provided by Dillon Gym lulled Princeton into a false sense of security against Yale. Certainly the Tigers played as if they could have the victory any time they were ready to press the button.

Instead, they trailed almost constantly: by eight in the first half; 41-36 at the intermission; and 61-51 with about eight minutes to go. Paced by Pete Campbell, they finally drew even at 67-all and with only 1:14 left, had a 71-67 lead.

From that point on, it was sheer frustration for Coach

Jake McCandless and most of the 2,200 fans in the gymnasium. Twice the Elis fouled intentionally; twice Tigers toeing the line missed the first of one-and-one situations which, converted, would have seen them win going away.

Both of Yale's last two baskets earning a 73-all deadlock were made without defensive pressure from Princeton. In the five-minute overtime session, the Tigers again had an advantage which either proper half-control or accurate foul shooting would have maintained. Neither was forthcoming and — while Yale Coach Joe Vancisin was frantically signalling for a time out that neither official saw—substitute Dick Derby sank a two-handed 30-foot set with three seconds to go.

Brown Barely Edged. The tipoff on the fact that all is not right with the Tigers came 24 hours earlier when last-place Brown took the defending champions down to

Following the contest with Cornell Friday, the Tigers head for New York Saturday to face a mediocre Columbia quintet. They should win there without difficulty, but if a loss at Ithaca clearly ousts them from title contention, it may

SKATERS SLIPPING

Last Place Looms. Defeats by teams once figured to be stepping stones to a first-division finish in the Ivy standing have left Princeton's hockey team looking up at the rest of the world. Off the brand of play against Brown and Dartmouth, the Tigers are all too likely to finish in the cellar.

One of the most desultory performances seen in Baker Rink in the last decade cost a 3-1 defeat by Brown, which thereby swept its series with the Orange and Black for the first time in many seasons. The Tigers were guilty of faulty passing, lack of hustle and above all, wholly inadequate defense. play as a routine Bruin sextet dominated action throughout the evening.

Loss of Captain Austin Sullivan, who, with the exception of goalie Bill Hill, is about 80 percent of the team's defensive strength, was more of a handicap than the Tigers could overcome against Dartmouth. A leg injury incurred in the third period against Brown benched Sullivan at Hanover.

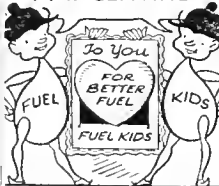

The Tigers trailed 1-0 in the first period, but goals by Dave Hersey, Johnny Cook and Jim Hyland brought a 3-1 lead midway through the second quarter. The roof then fell in, slowly at first as the Green got one in the second round and four more in the third. Once again, Hill gave a tremendous performance in the net—kicking out 48 shots while the Dartmouth goalie was credited with only 22 saves.

The Wednesday contest this week against the St. Nicholas Hockey Club will be followed by a trip to New Haven Saturday. The Elis are only 5-10 on the season but a Princeton victory will be clear-cut form reversal.

WEEKEND ACTION LIGHT Teams to Travel. Sports-minded Princetonians will have little to watch here this weekend. Basketball fans will have a chance to see the freshman standout, Bill Bradley, when the Class of 1965 plays Seton Hall Friday at 7:30. An All-American choice in high school, Bradley contributed 16 points during the last ten minutes of the first half and finished with 28 as the freshmen topped Yale, 95 to 68. Fencing with Pennsylvania Saturday at 2 is the lone varsity event on the schedule. The steadily-improving swimming team, which has hopes of trimming all opponents this year save perennially powerful Yale and Harvard, meets Army at West Point. Jimmy Reed's wrestlers, who

WE Congratulate

PETE CAMPBELL
Princeton Guard

No better than 3-3 in its first six games, Princeton's basketball team is on the brink of dropping out of the 1962 Ivy League race, but no one can say it's because the chief point-producer is below form. As the annual go-round reaches the halfway mark, Pete Campbell, 22-year old senior from Hockessin, is leading the Ivy individual scoring with 124 points.

The Tigers' lack-luster performance in gaining no more than an even break in Dillon Gym against Brown and Yale was not reflected in Campbell's play. The three-year veteran hit for 24 points Friday and 30 on Saturday, 22 of his total against Yale coming after the intermission as the home team almost averted the costly upset.

Invariably singled out by the defense as the man to stop, Campbell has developed a variety of shots from all parts of the floor. A dead-eye from 25 feet when he is on target, he can also fake out the opposition with a drive across the key-hole that suddenly comes to a solid stop and finishes with a pop shot for two points.

Early in Friday's game against Cornell at Ithaca on Friday, Pete will make basketball history. His seventh point that evening will give him a career total of 1,293—one more than the versatile Bud Haabestad made in his three years from 1953-'55.

It was in his sophomore year that Campbell broke the first of the numerous records that will fall to him before he plays his final game next month. He was credited with 501 points on the season, and 322 within the league—both new marks for a Princetonian. He also holds the foul-shooting record for one game (15), set last winter as a junior.

On the season this winter, Pete is averaging better than 19 points a game and a solid 42 percent from the floor. In each case, he is above the fine showing he made a year ago.

The road ahead for the Tigers is as rocky as they come, since an 11-3 record best the Tigers can do if they win all the rest is unlikely to gain more than a tie for first place. Biggest weapon working for them will be Pete Campbell's gunning, which is rewriting records in the sport at Princeton.

beat Penn Saturday, 15-14, for their first victory in two years, take or Brown at Providence, while John Conroy's undefeated squash team faces Harvard and MIT at Cambridge within the space of six hours.

The match against the Crimson, originally scheduled for Saturday, was advanced to Friday to permit Harvard to enter a tournament in Boston. The resulting doubleheader is probably the first in the sport's history at Princeton.

LITTLE TIGERS ROUTED

By BMI Quintet. A tired, injury-riddled Princeton High School basketball team, which had to go all out to defeat Hamilton High just 24 hours earlier, was no match for a fresh Bordentown Military Institute team in a contest played Wednesday afternoon at BMI's Carlisle Memorial Gymnasium. The cadets crushed the visiting Blue and White, seeking its 11th victory in 13 games, 92 to 48.

The lopsidedness of the scoring in the first three periods, in which BMI built up a 72-26 margin, bordered on the fantastic. PHS coach Tony Borzok compared it to being knocked unconscious with a lead pipe.

"We just didn't have any juice left," he said. The game was originally rated a toss-up.

The Little Tigers, minus services of starters Danny Brown, who is fighting pneumonia and John Bensinger, who didn't make the trip because of illness, made a game of it for the first few minutes. George Tucker took the opening tap in for a lay-up to put PHS in front 2-0. A few moments later Hank Schmidt tied the score at 8-all after BMI had reeled off eight straight points.

But that was to be the invader's last gasp. With the afternoon sun shining through the windows, forcing the players to shield their eyes, the home team vent on several spectacular scoring spurts on its small court. Hitting on 40 of 72 shots, the cadets built up margins of 36-11, 49-13, 72-26 only in the final period, when the Little Tigers outscored the BMI reserves, 22-20, were the losers able to produce more than 11 points a quarter. In the second period, they could manage only one field goal.

The outcome snapped a two-game BMI losing streak. The Maroon and White, after winning its first eight, had just lost a two-point upset to Peddie and was smarting for revenge.

"They sure took it out on us," said Borzok. "I'm glad we got this out of our system."

The game also marked the second time this season that Tucker has been held to less than 20 points a game. George, who hit for 37 the day before, was held to 18 by Coach Marvin Borst's players. Charlie Bomberton was the only other PHS player to hit double figures. He had 12.

"I thought I'd switch to a zone defense to try to keep the score down," said Borzok. "But I figured, 'this isn't the type of game we are used to playing' so I let them play it out. We have a six-day rest before we play again so our boys should be in shape for South Brunswick. All we need is some rest."

TROTMAN IS TOP SCORER

Among Small Colleges, Marv Trotman of 30 Lytle Street, former Princeton High School basketball star, is the leading scorer in the N.A.I.A., an organization composed of more than 400 of the nation's small colleges engaged in intercollegiate sports.

A senior at Elizabeth City College, N. C., Marv has averaged 31.6 points per game to earn the top position among the small college shooters. He has also averaged 12 assists per game to rate as a top team player as well. In 1960 he was the top player in the C.I.A.A. Tournament.

On January 28, Marv established a new C.I.A.A. individual scoring record for a single game when he scored 62 points to lead his team to a 121-82 victory over Norfolk Division, Virginia State College. After being held to 17 points in the first half, Marv broke loose in the second half, scoring 45 in 20 minutes.

Marv was the scourge of all Little Tiger opponents for three years during the 1953-55 seasons and was one of the best players ever to don a PHS uniform. "He was the best high school player in the state at the time he played," said Tony Borzok, PHS coach who took over as Blue and White coach in 1953.

ETS, SANNINO WIN
In Industrial League. Educational Testing Service and Sannino A. C. recorded victories over the YMCA and RCA Labs respectively last week at the Princeton High School Gymnasium to break a four-way tie for first place that had existed among them in the YMCA Research and Industrial Basketball League. In a third contest, Institute for Defense Analyses captured its third straight victory by defeating RCA Astro.

In the closest game of the evening, Sannino edged the Labs, 52-48, on the 19-point performance of Bob Kehoe. Bill Ehnott tallied 13 for the losers. It was the former champions' third loss in a row after having won their first four outings.

Clarence Gilbert hit for 20 points, high for all players for the evening, to lead ETS to a 58-39 triumph over YMCA. The victory enabled it to tie Sannino for first place, each team having won five and lost two. Dick Lanahan was high for the Y team with 11 points. IDA came from behind to upend Astro, 41-36, to continue its winning momentum. Bob Uhl netted 12 points for IDA while Ray Yuhasz had 11 for Astro. Winless Food Machinery and Chemical had a bye.

HUN DROPS TO 500

In Penn-Jersey Conference. Two Penn-Jersey Conference defeats, one unexpected, were sustained by the Hun School basketball team last week, dropping it to the 500 mark at the end of the first round of league play. The twin loss lowered the record of the slumping Red and Black to 3-5 overall.

Pennington School engineered the week's first defeat last Wednesday at the Princeton Seminary gymnasium. The neighboring Red Raiders started fast and led the way to win, 56-42. Saturday afternoon, George School tagged an unexpected 47-40 defeat on the visiting Red and Black.

"The boys were pretty dejected after the game," reported Coach Dan Barren. "We didn't expect to lose to George School. We have a lot of tough games coming up and it looks like it is going to be a long winter."

Probably the two toughest will take place this week. Friday afternoon, Hun will tangle with Germantown. Unbeaten and at the top of the conference, Germantown has manhandled all of its opponents to date. Earlier this year, the Quakers defeated Hun, 71-49.

Tuesday afternoon Hun will meet its third and final non-conference foe when it engages visiting Tower Hill from Wilmington, Del. "They're always tough," said Barren. "They're ranked second in the whole state this year and they are a lot bigger than we are." Both games will be played at the Seminary gymnasium, Hun's home court.

There is no puzzlement over Hun's failure to win more games than it has. The team has averaged less than a 30 percent completion and only 43 points a game this season. "You can't expect to win games with shooting like that," said Barren.

"Weak at Foul Line. Both Hun defeats last week corroborate Barren's Pennington outshot the Red and Black players by 20 percent, 43 to 23. Both Hun and George School made the same number of baskets, 15, but the home team was a fine 17 for 19 from the foul line while Hun could connect on less than half of its charity tosses, hitting on 10 of 23.

Hun took more shots than the opposing team in both contests. "Unless our shooting improves, I don't know what we can do unless we can pump up over a 100 shots a game," said Barren. "We're right back where we were at the semester break."

Top scorers for Hun against George School were Jim Byer and C. A. Hale with 22 points between them. Alex Langel pumped in 16 Hun points against Pennington, the only Red and Black player to score more than eight. Gary Grover, team captain and playmaker missed both games because of a shoulder injury. Barren reported it is doubtful whether Gary will see any more action this year.

LARRIES HOME TWICE

For Hockey Contests. Lawrenceville's hockey team, sporting a 2-7 record, will face off against two high school teams this weekend. The Larries will meet Hamden High at 3:30 Friday afternoon, and play West Haven High at 3 on Saturday. The basketball team has only one game on tap this weekend, travelling to Hightstown Saturday for a 2:30 contest against Peddie School. The Red and Black quintet was scheduled to meet Croydon Hall at home on Wednesday, and will face Princeton High next Wednesday at 3 on the home court.

Last week, the basketball team broke a five-game losing streak with a 95-35 win over Blair Academy. Mark Haley's 18-point effort was the difference as the Larries held a 25-13 lead. Thien Haley got nine of the 19 Lawrenceville points in the third quarter, while Blair could only connect on one field goal.

The hockey team lost a heartbreaker Saturday, as Wissachickon Hockey Club scored a 6-5 victory in sudden-death overtime. Jim Melior and Tom Rawls each scored two goals for the winners. Lawrenceville is now 2-7 in season play. A game with Hill School Wednesday was cancelled.

BOWLING NOTES

Farmers' Hold Lead. The Farmers' (20) swept three more games last week to increase their lead to two games over K. of C. to highlight "A" League action. Nelson Glass (13) was third, one point ahead of Grover Lumber. In the "B" loop, Walker Gordon (20) held a one-game margin over Edwards, while Ivy Inn and Sportsman No. 1 were tied at 16 points each.

In other Princeton action last week, Para Lab Supply moved a game in front of the Industrial loop, leading the Crescents (8) and Tiger Garage and the Reformers, tied at six points each. The King Pins (65) continued to pace the ETS circuit, comfortably ahead of Research I and II, tied at 54 each.

Nassau Service (28) led Fulmer-Bowers by a slim half-game in the Women's Industrial League, with Cifelli and Jefferson tied for third at 22 each, and Conover Motors (26) held a four-point margin over Amron Homes, Nassau Del and Craft Cleaners in the Women's loop.

High ladies scores included Sara Rose, 191; Lillian Burroughs, 189-180; Margaret Drummond, 188; and Betty Drummond and Helen Tamasi, 181 each, in the former loop; and Helen Lowe, 193; Sara Rose, 189-181; Jean Donald, 186; Audrey Landis, 185, and Helen Tamasi, 182, in the latter.

Frank Delness topped the men with a 249 in the "B" League. Other notable scores included Bill Dumble and Angelo Tamasi, 202 each, in the "B" loop; Val Rinaldo, 224-201; Robert Reed, 213; Frank Sannino, 210; Walt McKee, 209; and Ken Luck, 202, in the "A" circuit; and Hal Frazee, 208; Dick Edwards, 207-200, and Milton Shinn, 203, in the Industrial League.

THREE FIELDS ADDED

To University Facilities. Three newly completed playing fields, part of Princeton University's effort to develop its athletic facilities, have been named in accordance with the wishes of their donors. The new fields are Campbell Field, Finney Field and Sexton Field.

Campbell Field was made possible by gifts from the family and friends of Tyler Campbell, Class of 1943. Campbell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Campbell of Towson, Maryland, was a member of the Tiger varsity hockey and lacrosse teams and was twice named an

The Rev. Guido Merlo, 67, of 1100 Anderson Street, Trenton, died suddenly on February 5 in Helene Fuld Hospital, Trenton. He was the owner of Merlo & Sons Publishing Co., 1305 South Clinton Avenue, Trenton.

A former resident of Bristol, Mr. Merlo moved to Trenton 30 years ago and established the printing and publishing firm which bears his name. Under his guidance, it grew steadily and today is one of the few printing establishments in central New Jersey equipped with a rotary press. One of his last acts prior to his death had been to complete plans for purchase of adjacent land and further expansion of the plant.

Mr. Merlo had been pastor of the Italian Christian Church of Apostolic Faith in Trenton. He served in that capacity for a quarter century. He was the husband of the late Liberata Tatti Merlo. Survivors are four sons, Gene, now living in California; Joseph of Philadelphia and Victor and Daniel, both of Trenton; five daughters, Mrs. Josephine Bruschini, Mrs. Ann Fusco, Mrs. Mary Zanca and Mrs. Elizabeth Pushman, all of Trenton, and Mrs. Julia Matyas of Roehling; two brothers in Italy; 20 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral will be held Friday at 10:30 at the Grueter Funeral Home, 311 Chestnut Avenue, Trenton. A service will follow at 11 in the First Assembly of God Church, 740 Pennington Avenue. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery. Calling hours will be from 5:30 to 10 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Bertha Crowsaw Mount, 75, of the Cranbury Station Road, Hightstown, died February 5 at her home. The wife of John C. Mount, s.e. was born in Etta and was a member of the Hightstown Grange.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Alberta V. Mount of Madison; a son, Elmer; a sister, Mrs. Lillie A. Stuts; a brother, Leslie H. Crowsaw, all of Hightstown; and a grandchild.

The service will be held Thursday at 2 at the A. S. Cole Funeral Home, Cranbury, with the Rev. David Muyskens of the Hightstown Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hightstown.

Mrs. Grace Hankins Allen, 26 South Main Street, Pennington, died February 6 in Helene Fuld Hospital, Trenton after a brief illness. She had lived in Pennington for the past 45 years.

Lenz of Hopewell; two sisters, Mrs. Sadie Lake of Hopewell and Mrs. Zilla Hock of Pennington; and seven grandchildren.

BUSINESS In Princeton

HOUSES GOING UP

By New Firm. Two Princeton residents, Stanley I. Pilshaw and Lewis S. Kraft, have joined to form Longridge Builders, Inc. a firm which is now building custom homes in Rocky Hill.

On "Princeton Ridge," Longridge will construct 74 homes on one-acre plots fronting on Washington Street and on the Millstone River, just off Route 206.

Three model homes, now under construction, offer the choice of a five-bedroom Colonial, a four-bedroom Colonial and a three-bedroom Colonial, all with 2½ baths, family rooms, two-car garages, basements and complete laundry facilities.

The Borough of Rocky Hill, in which the houses are located, has its own municipal water system and is a sending district to Princeton High School Children in Princeton Ridge will be transported to Princeton schools by regular school bus service.

Designed by Herman N. York, the houses are priced from $26,000 to $29,000. Hilton Realty will serve as sales agents for Princeton Ridge. Tract and house plans may be examined at the sales office on the site, Washington Street, Rocky Hill. The telephone is WA 1-2288.

Mr. Pilshaw has been constructing one-family homes in New Brunswick, Metuchen, Summit and Red Bank for eight years. Mr. Kraft is a real-estate broker who has specialized in the sale and mortgage financing of new homes in Princeton, Franklin Park, Madison Township and Jamesburg.

ENDS 35-YEAR OPERATION

Of Gas Station. Archer A. Vaughn, of Alexander Road, Penns Neck, has retired from the operation of his gas station, Vaughn's Mobil Service, 235 Nassau Street. His decision will bring to an end 35 years of service.

Mr. Vaughn said his health had forced him to make the decision. Richard A. Gemberling, 24 Church Street, Kingston, took over the operation of the station Monday. The station's mechanic, Charles Young, will remain.

BARBER SHOP MOVES

To Nassau Street. Located at 16 Witherspoon Street since 1938, the Rialto Barber Shop opened Monday at its new location, 128½ Nassau Street, next to Woolworth's. The shop's owner is Nicholas Chisano of Makefield Road, Morrisville, Pa.

The new barber shop has four chairs and three barbers with more than 75 years of experience among them. Mr. Chisano reported he plans to add a fourth in the near future. "I also expect to install appointment service soon," he said.

The new Rialto is long (60 feet) and spacious. A comfortable, informal sitting room occupies the first half of the shop. The decor is American Colonial and includes sturdy captain's chairs with padded red leather seats. Dishes of hard candy are within easy reach.

The lighting is unusually bright. Huge four foot square fluorescent panels have been placed side by side along a bright path of light down the center of the ceiling. The ceiling is acoustical tile.

NEW HAIR-DO

For Artistic. Remodeling processes now under way at Artistic Hairdressers will double the ground-floor space available to the salon at 14 Witherspoon Street. The schedule calls for completion of the work by April 1.

The hairdressing establishment will continue to use the downstairs space under its present quarters, but will not expand at the lower level.

Artistic, owned by Margaret Jeffries, has been at the Witherspoon Street location for six years, and in Princeton for 15

SYLVAN WINS MEDAL

Pools, which has sold and rebuilt many swimming pools in the Princeton area, has received a gold medal for the best designed family swimming pool in the country during 1961.

The award was presented in the fifth annual Swimming Pool Age Design Awards competition and represents the second consecutive year that Sylvan has won the gold medal. The company is the first builder to win two years in a row.

The winning entry is a classical shaped, Roman-designed pool. It was cited for its "inviting design and unique construction features, its practical deck and graceful shape." In 1960, Sylvan won a gold medal for its excellent design of a tear-shaped pool, in addition to three honorable mention awards.

Now in its 15th year, Sylvan has built more than 2000 commercial and private pools, and expects to increase this number by 800 in 1962. The corporation's home offices are in Doylestown, Pa., and one of its numerous sales offices is in Princeton.

PUS WINS EASILY

Over South Brunswick. Holding South Brunswick to two points in the first period while it hit for 14, the Princeton High School basketball team rolled to its 11th victory of the season Tuesday with a 65-42 triumph on the losers' court.

George Tucker with 18 and Hank Schmidt with 14 paced the Little Tigers, who had a 30-to-10 margin at the intermission. Coach Tony Borzok used his bench extensively in the second half as the Blue and White raised its season's mark to 11-3.

HUN FIVE BEATEN

By Bryn Athyn. Hun School's basketball team was no worse than 18-al at the halfway mark against well-regarded Bryn Athyn Tuesday, but the Red and Black succumbed in the final two periods, 47 to 37.

Three of the victors were in doubled figures but no Hun player could produce more than eight points. The third quarter, when Bryn Athyn outscored the Red and Black, 16 to 10, told the story.

SEA COURSE OFFERED

By YMCA and Coast Guard. A 10-week course in basic seamanship and safe boat handling will begin February 27 at the YMCA. The course is being jointly sponsored by the U.S. Coast Auxiliary and the YMCA.

The class is scheduled to meet Tuesday evenings at 8. Charles Tessen, training officer for the Princeton Flotilla, reported that qualified volunteers of the flotilla would provide instruction in boat safety and boat handling. He added that participation did not require the ownership of a boat. Registration for the course will be received through February 20. Registration slips and further information are available at the YMCA office or from Mr. Tessen.

MEETING TUESDAY

Of YMCA Chess Club. A newly-formed YMCA adult chess club is meeting each Tuesday evening at 7:30 and is open to area chess enthusiasts. Werner R. Sonntag is advisor to the group.

The club presently claims some 18 members. It plans to elect officers and hold inter-club matches in the near future. Additional information may be obtained at the Y building.

HORSE SHOW SUNDAY

At Chestnut Ridge Club. A schooling horse show will be held Sunday at the Chestnut Ridge Riding Club on The Great Road. It will start promptly at 9 a.m. and the public is invited.

The show's judge will be Captain John H. Fritz. Captain Fritz is on the Board of Governors of the U. S. Pony Clubs, Inc. and is also one of the examiners of the organization.

There will be 21 classes held during the day, according to Miss Majorie H. Cruthers, secretary of the Chestnut Ridge Club. There will be six classes for working hunters, two for pony hunters and nine for children's horsemanship. A special class for jumpers and the Henry Beigh Trophy for fence horsemanship will also be part of the program.

Chapter of Deborah Hospital will be held next Wednesday at 3:30 at the Princeton Inn. Those interested are asked to call Mrs. Norman Aronson at WA 1-6164 or Mrs. Chester A. Page, Jr., 393-0862.

Deborah Hospital exists solely on donations which permits it to render free care to all its patients. It is the only hospital of its kind east of the Mississippi River.

PARKING PROHIBITED

In North of Valley. Parking will be banned on the north side of Valley Road throughout its length, on the south side of Birch, the north side of Franklin and the south side to within 100 feet of Snowden Lane following Township Committee's passage of the prohibiting ordinance Monday. Committee member Maurice F. Healey, Jr., cast the one dissenting vote. He does not believe parking should be allowed on the south side of Valley next to school sidewalks and fears that children will run between parked cars into Valley traffic.

After hearing a letter addressed to Committee, to the Board of Education and to the press (see TOWN TOPICS last week, page 1) on the subject of school consolidation, Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman reminded the community that Township Committee is on record as favoring a consolidation study.

He went on to say that both Borough and Township residents should "educate themselves as to the facts of the future," and he suggested that the cost of a consolidation study, which the Borough has said should not come from public funds, would be small compared to the amount required for master plan studies.

Committee set February 26 for public hearings on assessments for Grover Avenue, Harrison Street, Magnolia-Broad-ripple, Cedar Lane and Sycamore Road Ext. sidewalks.

MACCALMONT RESIGNS

Will Move to Cincinnati. Dr. William F. MacCalmont, president of Westminster Choir College, has resigned his post to accept the call to the Kennedy Heights Presbyterian Church in Cincinnati. Dr. Noel Sargent is acting president of the college.

During the past semester, Dr. MacCalmont was on leave of absence for post-graduate study. He served as interim pastor of the Immanuel Union Church on Staten Island. He was president of Westminster since 1958.

During the past four years, the college instituted the bachelor of music education degree in its curriculum, employed its first full-time chaplain and established a chair of religion and a system of ranks and tenure for the faculty. It is examining its courses and program in preparation for regional accreditation.

ALMOST $3,500 RAISED

By Smith Club. A total of $3,479.56 has been raised this year by the Smith College Club of Princeton for its Scholarship Fund. This includes $2,517.56 from the auction held January 27 in Miss Fine's School Gym and $962 from the raffle of a trip to Bermuda.

This is the second highest amount raised by the club since it was organized in 1946 and is topped only by last year's record total of $3,911. Last year's auction netted $2,732.50 and last year's raffle raised $1,178.50.

POT-LUCK SUPPER PLANS

By Wyman Club. The Wyman Club of Princeton University will hold a pot-luck supper Friday, February 17, at 7 p.m. in the Prospect Club, Washington Road and Ivy Lane. The planning committee, headed by Mrs. Creighton A. Burk, has selected "An Evening in Pigalle" as the theme for the event.

Each club member is asked to prepare food to serve eight. Those planning to attend should call Mrs. William McCroskey, Mrs. William Hildreth or Mrs. James Christenson to report contributions.

NEW CHAIRMEN NAMED

By Hospital Aid Group. Mrs. Otto Rosner and Mrs. Ray Dawson will serve as co-chairmen of gifts for the Hospital Aid Shop. Mrs. Fred Vandeventer is retiring as chairman after four years.

Mrs. Dwight O. North succeeds Mrs. Rosner as director of the shop. The group has contributed $105,000 to the hospital over the last eight years, and will underwrite a new project, which will be announced later.

Some Stories Become Out of Date

The Continuing Response to This Classified Ad
Made These Corrections Necessary In Our First Report:

One Ad: 209 Replies from 26 Communities

The ad read:

WANTED: SOMEONE TO ADDRESS 1000 envelopes per week. 2c per envelope. Can be done at home. Please reply in own handwriting to Box Z-45, Town Topics.

In the first six days following its publication last week, the advertisement drew 209 answers. While many readers in the past have reported that "I could have sold what I advertised many times over," and "the telephone never stopped ringing," the number of replies to Box Z-45 is a record for TOWN TOPICS' 15 years of publication.

The advertiser in this instance was The First Princeton Corporation, 195 Nassau Street, which has asked TOWN TOPICS to express its appreciation to all those who replied. Aware that more than 200 people who had taken the trouble to answer the ad would be disappointed, one member of the firm said a bit sadly, "We only wanted one!"

As the volume of TOWN TOPICS advertising has grown through the years, inquiries have periodically been made as to why the ads are not grouped together by subject matter—in true classified fashion. Box Z-45—an advertisement that happened to appear well toward the bottom of a page near others for rentals, for a jewelry store, for lost eyeglasses—is an adequate answer.

The replies bore these postmarks from three states: Princeton, Lawrenceville, Hopewell, Kingston, Rocky Hill, Monmouth Junction, Skillman, Blawenburg, Trenton, Cranbury, Hightstown, Bordentown, Franklin Park, Princeton Junction, Jamesburg, Penns Neck, Morrisville, New Hope, Linden, Bound Brook, Plainfield, Titusville, Allentown, Bryn Mawr, New York and Weehawken.

OPEN LETTER TO

HOME SEEKERS

I have been corrected by a knowing Princetonian on the Welsh definition of "Llanfair." It seems "Llanfair" means church and "fair" means Mary. I acknowledge his correction! The banker who suggested the name for this area tells me he used the first two syllables of the Welsh town "Llanfairpwllgwyngyll." We still think it should mean "fair land."

Anyhow—whether your ideal is a home surrounded by forest-type trees, rare specimen trees, fruit trees or open to the sun, whether you like a brook, a slightly sloping plot, or a knoll—we have what you want.

Our NEW builders are bending every effort to make plans available that will please our very discriminating Princeton people—the traditional Colonial exterior are exquisite, the interiors very livable. The new farm Colonial with gambrel roof and five bedrooms, rec. room, plus den, is a family home in the true sense of the word.

Don't wait for models—they sell before they're built—although we are starting to make an appointment with us to see these plans, and if you have any doubts, let us introduce you to the new builders whose sincerity will impress you, whose painstaking attention to detail and fine finishing will satisfy you.

Your own plans, if you'd rather, can be used, and an estimate will be given you in short order. Our aim is to please you and to make this area of which we all can be proud. May we hear from you?

Sincerely,

Joyce Woodruff, Manager
